

MANIAC SHOTS NINE

HE HOLDS A THOUSAND PEOPLE AT BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21--After holding over 1000 people at bay for two hours, shooting nine people and defying ten police, Thomas Lobb, a maniac, killed himself at 9:05 this morning. The dead:

Thomas Lobb, top of head blown off by himself.

The wounded:

W. S. Koffman, shot three times, wounds in right cheek, nose and forehead.

C. T. Chevalis, shot in left eye.

W. Jones, wounds in scalp and right cheek.

FINALLY BLOWS OFF TOP OF HIS HEAD

Emil Roberts, a boy, shot in right leg.

Quong Do, Chinese, rifle bullet in left hand.

Joseph Laribee, two shots in chin, one in lip, others in shoulder, face and right arm.

Policeman Patrick Karsane, shot in left cheek, while firing from adjoining room. Seven shots passed through his helmet.

All the victims were hit with No. 4 shot except the Chinese, who received a rifle ball.

HOW MANIAC SHOT VICTIMS.

He Picked Them Off the Sidewalk As They Passed Down Eddy Street.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.--Thomas Lobb, the insane man, was barricaded in his room on the fourth floor of the United States Hotel, 123 Eddy street.

He went to the place last night about 12 o'clock, and this morning just before 7 o'clock, began throwing furniture from the windows to the street. Several persons narrowly escaped being struck.

FIRE A SHOTGUN.

Then he began firing, using a shotgun. He placed $50 and $100 bills in the muzzle of the weapon, and fragments of the paper were scattered all over the street.

The first person he hit was shot at about 7:15 o'clock. A big crowd quickly gathered and hundreds of men were prevented from passing the place by fear of being killed.

Street car traffic was entirely suspended after one car had been fired upon and its windows broken.

POLICE ON HAND.

At 8 o'clock Lieutenant John Green of the police department, rushed a strong squad to the scene, among the officers being five members of the crack rifle team of the department.

They were unable to accomplish anything, however, as the maniac was strongly entrenched in his room and appeared to have an unlimited amount of ammunition.

MUST BE CAPTURED.

It was determined that he must be captured dead or alive, and all the rooms adjoining the one he occupied were quickly filled with armed officers.

A lively fusillade was begun through the door transom and walls of the madman's stronghold, to which he responded with remarkable rapidity.

The plaster was scattered from the ceiling and walls and the police were soon covered with the white flakes and nearly blinded by the lime.

OFFICER SHOT.

Officer Karsane attempted to look through the transom when he received a charge of shot which disfigured his face and completely riddled his helmet.

Then Officer Hutchins descended from the roof to the room window, while the other policemen made an attack in force on the door.

When Hutchins saw the maniac's attention was diverted he gave a prearranged signal by firing his revolver.

SHOT HIMSELF.

Hearing the report from an unexpected quarter, the murderous lunatic rushed to the window, which was open, and literally blew off the top of his own head.

CRAYON DRAWING OF LOBB.

The above is a crayon portrait of Thomas Lobb, the suicide and would-be-murderer, whose scene of operations was the United States Hotel in San Francisco. It was drawn specially for THE TRIBUNE by Albert Smith, the night elevator man in that hotel.

Smith was the last man to see Lobb alive and the last to converse with him last night.

Smith took Lobb up to the fifth floor of the hotel in the elevator about 11:45 o'clock, showed him his room, lighted the gas and bade him good-night.

Lobb's features made such an impression on Smith that the latter had little difficulty in reproducing them with his pencil for THE TRIBUNE this morning.

SUICIDE'S AUTOGRAPH.

Also a fac-simile of the autograph of Thomas Lobb, the assassin and suicide, as written by him last night on the register of the United States Hotel, 123-129 Geary street, San Francisco.

*****

The brains and fragments of skull flying through the air to the horror of thousands of spectators who had assembled in the neighborhood, which is near the heart of the city.

The body of the dead man has been identified as that of Thomas Lobb, aged about twenty-eight years, apparently an Englishman, and a stranger here. In his pocket was a card bearing the address of the British consul-general and a receipt for baggage, showing that he was a recent arrival in San Francisco.

NONE WILL DIE.

None of those wounded will die.

SCENE OF TRAGEDY.

The above is a picture of the United States Hotel, 123-129 Eddy street, San Francisco, where Lobb did his deadly work. The cross on the fifth story indicates the window from which Lobb picked out his victims in the street below and the room in which he ended his existence.

*****

It has been learned that Thomas Lobb, the maniac, now lying dead at the morgue, was a carpenter, who arrived here yesterday morning from Benson, Arizona.

VICTIMS ON STREET.

Aside from the great number of the victims of the crime, the tragedy was unique and all the more abhorrent because Lobb acted as a sharpshooter, picking off his victims on Eddy street immediately in front of the United States Hotel, which is situated on the south side of that thoroughfare, extending from No. 123 to 129, the maniac at the time being sheltered in a room on the fifth story of that structure, which commanded a view of the opposite side of the street for a block, and which, at the same time, sheltered him from offensive attack below his point of vantage.

NEARLY ALL CIVILIANS.

All the victims of the missiles were civilians, save one, who was a policeman and were unaware of the fact that they were targets for the mad marksman until they fell bleeding from the effect of Lobb's unerring aim.

DEADLY AIM.

Nearly all the victims were wounded in the head, thus showing the deadly maliciousness which inspired the assassin. Some of them will lose their eyes and all of them will be disfigured for life.

Although so far as known Lobb is a stranger here, a book found on his body shows that he is a member of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union No. 810 of San Diego.

There was also found on his person a check of the Union Trans-

LEAPS TO HIS DEATH

Takes Fatal Plunge at West Oakland Yards.

An unknown white man, supposed to be a Russian, committed suicide in the West Oakland yards this morning in a highly sensational manner.

He sought the highest pinnacle possible, a huge coal pile about fifty feet above the ground, and after waving an adieu to the world cast himself headlong to his destruction.

The man landed squarely on his head, breaking the neck instantly.

Death was almost instantaneous.

Several people witnessed the sensational act.

When the unknown man first appeared in the yards no attention was paid to him, as it was thought he might be seeking work.

When he began to mount the pile of coal and climb dangerously near the edge he attracted the attention of those at work about him.

Sam Brown, of 830 Willow street and A. T. York of 418 Eleventh street saw the unknown wave his hands in farewell and then plunge forward to certain death.

The man after being picked up, was taken to the Emergency Hospital of the Southern Pacific Company. He was dead, however, long before reaching there.

The remains were removed to the Morgue. A thorough search of the clothing failed to reveal any identifying marks. There was no money in the pockets and it is assumed that despondency on account of lack of funds was the cause of the act. Coroner Meinmann will hold an inquest.

THE INJURED.

W. D. KOFFMAN, 914 Howard street; shot in right cheek, nose and forehead.

W. JONES, 1621 Clay street; shot in right cheek and scalp.

EMIL ROBERTS (boy), 1517 Broderick street, right leg.

C. T. CHEVALIS, 23 Eddy street; shot with pistol ball exactly through left eye; eye destroyed, but life will be saved. This victim is the worst injured of all those fired upon.

SMASHED FURNITURE.

The tragedy began this morning about 7:15 o'clock. The first intimation that anything was wrong being received by Fred Damm, who was temporarily acting as day clerk and manager of the Hostelry when he discovered furniture from upstairs flying through the air and landing on the pavement below, being smashed into splinters. The first article which appeared in this way was a rocking chair. This was followed by a center table, and this by a pillow, a hat, and a brass watch.

These unusual missiles descending upon the street attracted attention of passersby and in a short time a host of people gathered on the north side of Eddy street to try and ascertain the cause of the unusual demonstration.

FIRST VICTIM.

Clerk Damm hastily rushed upstairs to ascertain where the furniture was coming from, but before he made the discovery he heard the report of a shot gun and hastily returned to the ground floor and rushed to the front of the building, where he saw the people who had assembled running hastily away seeking cover from the stores, opposite the hotel.

At this time one of Lobb's victims, W. D. Koffman, had fallen to the sidewalk with his cheek and nose perforated with the shot from Lobb's room on the fifth floor.

At the same time there were noticed flying through the air shreds of greenbacks which showed that Uncle Sam's money had been used for some mysterious purpose in the barrel of the weapon. These shreds showed bills of the denominations of five, fifty and one hundred dollars.

These shreds are practically the only thing which the Coroner has in his possession belonging to the unfortunate marksman.

The shooting was continued at intervals for about a half hour, in which time Lobb's victims numbered nine people, all of whom will have cause to remember having ever gotten in reach of his unerring aim.

Despite the terror which the shots inspired, a crowd gathered in the immediate vicinity of the hotel, everybody, however, striving for some place in which protection might be secured.

CARS STOPPED.

Street car traffic was suspended, because when one car tried to pass the maniac fired upon it, shattered the windows, happily, however, doing no injury to the occupants.

The news of the maniac's deed traveled quickly to the police station, and as a consequence at 8 o'clock Lieutenant John Green of Company A rushed a squad of policemen to the scene. In this squad there were five members of the crack rifle team of the police department, namely Officers Carl Hutchings, Lyons, Prowse, as also Policemen John Edwards, Clarke, McQuade, Percy Smith, Raton and O'Connor.

The members of the rifle team were armed with rifles, the other policemen carrying revolvers.

NEAR THE ROOM.

At the time that these guardians of the peace arrived on the scene Lobb had not desisted firing on the crowd at intervals.

The officers entered the building, and climbed up to the fifth story and were directed to the room in which the murderous maniac had concealed himself.

Some of the officers threw themselves against the door of the apartment, which is number 512, and attempted to force it, but were unsuccessful, because Lobb had braced the bed against it on the inside.

The assault of the members at the door immediately attracted to them the fire of the maniac and immediately half a dozen bullets in quick succession came tearing through the panels of the door, luckily missing the officers who happened to be out of range.

OFFICER HIT.

The hall is only about four feet wide and it was difficult to stand in it without meeting some of the flying bullets. The policemen, however, held their ground and one of them, Karsane, more venturesome than the rest, managed to get on a box, which enabled him to look in through the transom over the door of 512. His purpose was to get a point of advantage from which he might be able to silence Lobb's shots.

He was none too careful, however, because after firing a shot through the transom at the maniac he was struck himself on the cheek by some of the shots from Lobb's guns, and several holes were made at the same time through his helmet.

CHANGE OF TACTICS.

It was deemed imprudent to continue the fight from that quarter, because it was apparent that so long as Lobb's ammunition lasted, no one could force that door without certain death, and it was almost equivalent standing in front of it.

A change of tactics was then decided upon, and resulted at once in the wounding of Lobb and the display of coolness, nerve and bravery on the part of Hiram Hutchings, which has since proved the talk of the town.

BRAVE MAN.

Hutchings went up to the roof of the hotel and climbed down on the fire escape, which passes in front of a building at a distance of about ten feet from Lobb's room.

There was no means of reaching these windows on Hutchings' part, save by climbing along a narrow ledge which projected only a short distance from the building, and served as a water table. Revolver in hand Hutchings traversed this distance on this narrow piece of stone, and when he reached the window he fired one shot at the luckless Lobb, which lodged in his body.

This daring on Hutchings' part attracted the attention of the thousands of people gathered below, not a few of whom expected the officer to lose his footing and fall to the pavement sixty feet below.

SHOOTS HIMSELF.

Hutchings' shot was followed by a loud report of a shotgun from Lobb's apartment, and on looking in the officer saw that the maniac had directed his gun at his own head, and had literally blown the roof of that member to the elements. Simultaneously the police of the hall forced the door, and when the apartment was entered by Hutchings and the others the life of Lobb was extinct.

The apartment presented a revolting appearance. Blood was streaming down the walls on three sides, and from the ceiling as if it had been scattered there by the filter of a hose nozzle. The apartment was bespattered with the human brains of the maniac and the scene generally was such as to make some of the stout hearted officers turn away. The Coroner was notified and took possession of the remains, bearing them to the morgue, where the ghastly sight was witnessed by a crowd of curious spectators.

NO VALISES.

Lobb had no valises or trunks with him in his room, all that was found there was a shotgun and a revolver with which he had done so much execution. These were taken possession of by the Coroner, as were also the few shreds of greenbacks, and the dilapidated watch which Lobb had thrown from his window.

At the morgue Lobb's clothing was searched, and all that was found was $2.65 in coin, and a book showing a membership card in the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, on which was inscribed the name "Thomas Lobb" in the same handwriting as that which appears on the register of the United States Hotel, where it was inscribed by him last night.

This card showed that Lobb had been a member of Local Union No. 810 of San Diego in this State. A facsimile of this card appears elsewhere in this issue of THE TRIBUNE.

On one of the pages intended for the receipt of dues it was made apparent that Lobb had paid dues at the rate of sixty cents per month for January, February, March and April of this year.

These were receipted for by the secretary, E. E. Hiatt. There was no receipt of dues for May and June. This, however, would not deprive Lobb of the benefits of membership in the union because delinquency, according to a section of the bylaws found in the book, begins to run only after three months without the payment of dues have elapsed.

CHECKED PACKAGE.

There was a check found in one of the pockets of Lobb which called for a package at the office of the Union Transportation Company in the city. It was learned that there was a trunk at that place which Lobb had not had delivered. This was taken possession of by a deputy coroner and turned over to the public administrator. What that trunk may develop in connection with this tragedy is not yet known.

LOBB ENTERS THE HOTEL.

Lobb made his appearance for the first time at the United States Hotel last night about 11:30 o'clock.

F. Morrissey, the night clerk, was behind the desk and to him Lobb said:

"I would like to get a room for the night."

As he said this he handed the clerk a dollar for the room and said he would like to retire at once.

In speaking of the case today, Morrissey said that Lobb appeared to be between 28 and 30 years of age. That he was fairly well dressed, but seemed to have a haggard expression.

Morrissey turned him over to Albert Smith, the young man who runs the elevator at night in the hotel, and told Lobb that Smith would show him to his room.

CARRIED REVOLVER.

Morrissey says that he noticed very little unusual about Lobb, except that he was carrying a shotgun or a rifle in a canvas case. When Lobb got in the elevator he was a subject to considerable scrutiny by Smith, and in speaking about the matter today, Smith said:

"When Lobb came to me from the desk of the clerk he carried in one hand a canvas case for a gun, while in the other hand he had a revolver exposed to view."

"This was a most unusual sight, and at first I felt disposed to say something to him about the danger of carrying a weapon that way, when I changed my mind. Lobb made no reference to anybody or anything, and

POISON FOR THE PRISONER.

Unknown Writer Wants
Mrs. Rogers to Suicide.

WINDSOR, Vt., June 21.—A letter containing poison and making an offer of $2000 if the substance were given to Mrs. Mary A. Rogers, who is to be hanged here Friday for the murder of her husband, was received by Superintendent Lovell of the State prison today. The letter was turned over to the Federal authorities.

The letter, which bore no signature, was mailed at Boston yesterday, according to the postmark on the envelope. It says the writer wished to "save the State of Vermont and all womankind from this impending disgrace," and requested Mr. Lovell to arrange for Mrs. Rogers to take the powder which was enclosed, promising "if the gallows is cheated on Friday" to mail him two $100 bills. The writer says if further details are desired to insert a personal in a certain Boston paper to "Justice."

SEATTLE, Wash., June 21.—Clarkson & Company, reported to have been ordered to leave Port Arthur have not been in business there for more than a year. Mr. Clarkson himself is a former resident of Portland, Ore., and his firm prior to the outbreak of the war was the heaviest importer of flour in Port Arthur. The company was the representative of the Boston Steamship Company at Seattle and did most of the business at Vladivostok and Port Arthur for the flour mills of Seattle. Clarkson before and since the war began, have been selling supplies to the Russian army. About the time the siege of Port Arthur began Mr. Clarkson removed to Vladivostok, and has been there for more than a year. His Port Arthur house in the meantime has been closed.

HODGCARRIER HAS A CLOSE CALL

S. Windrom, a West Berkeley hod carrier, went to the Receiving Hospital this morning for treatment for bruises he received Sunday night and which during the meantime were giving him considerable trouble. He tells of a thrilling ride in which he was driven for some distance by the train, and finally dropped to the ground, where he lay all night, being unable to move.

He says that he tried to board the last train from Emeryville, but that the train did not stop at the station and that he attempted to get on by his own efforts and was dragged for a considerable distance. He is forty years of age. His right leg is in a bad condition.

LADIES TO EDIT A MAGAZINE

The ladies of Berkeley are to edit a magazine and to this end have formed a corporation to be known as the Home Chimes Company for the purpose of editing what is to be known as Home Chimes. The company has elected as its officers: Mabel L. Stewart, Mary W. Edwards, Russell G. O'Brien, Edward C. Woolner, James Thompson and Ben F. Woolner. The capital stock of the corporation is $200,000 divided into shares of the par value of $1 each.

WILL BOYCOTT THE AMERICANS

SINGAPORE, Straits Settlement, June 21.—The Cantonese merchant here today initiated a movement in support of their compatriots to boycott all American products. Pending the result of the appeal against the Chinese exclusion act, the Chinese apparently are holding aloof from boycott.

SUES FOR DIVORCE.

Suit for divorce was begun today by Henry B. Sharp against Jessie F. Sharp, whom he charges with desertion. They were married at St. Helena in 1897 and he states that she left him in May, 1900. They have one child, Dorothy, who is now seven years old, of which he asks the custody.

Georgiana White was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce today by Judge Ellsworth from Charles H. White for desertion.

*****

took no notice of anybody, although there were several in the office at the time. He seemed, however, to act as if he might be detected by some one.

"I had no desire to have much to do with him, and was glad to get rid of him as soon as possible.

"When we reached the top of the fifth floor I led him to room 512, which is only a short distance from the elevator shaft, opening the door, turned on the light, bade him goodnight, and left him alone.

"I did not see any rifle with him, but the case he carried was big enough to have contained several weapons.

"I did not notice how long he kept his light burning, and heard nothing more about him until his shots attracted my attention this morning."

Fred Damm, who is acting manager during the day of the hotel, while the proprietor, Ed Rokkens, is absent, is an attaché of the Winchester Hotel on Third street. He told the reporter that none of the employees of the United States Hotel ever remember having seen Lobb there before, and that the books of the house did not bear his name.

CHEST OF TOOLS.

The check above referred to as having been found on the person of Lobb when presented at the office of the Union Transportation Company in this city today, called for a tool chest, and not for a trunk as was at first supposed it did.

The Public Administrator has taken possession of the chest. At this writing the box had not been opened because the administrator had not been able to find a key which would throw the bolt of the lock, and he was desirous of getting a key and thus avoid the necessity of breaching the chest open and thus destroying it.

It is believed that the receptacle contains carpenter's tools, and nothing that would have any bearing on the case.

BOTH CLAIM THE CHILD

LITTLE ONE BORN OUT OF WEDLOCK IS CAUSE OF A CONTEST.

Born out of wedlock and left in the care of strangers an infant given the name of Alice Brown is the center of a fierce struggle between Mrs. Abbie Walt, who says that she is the mother of the child and Joseph Brown, who the mother says is the father of it, as to who shall have the possession of the little one. The child was recently taken by the father away from its mother and placed in charge of Mrs. Margaret G. Ely, Superintendent of the West Oakland Home at No. 1666 Ninth street where it is at the present time. The mother was formerly a resident of this city but now lives in San Francisco and she has employed Attorney W. S. Angwin to get back her child and to this end he has instituted habeas corpus proceedings which will be heard Friday.

The circumstances of the parties engaged in the quarrel are not known. The mother is a widow and she says that she never abandoning her child nor did she consent to having it placed in a home. During a quarrel the father took the little girl which is now two and a half years old and placed it with Mrs. Ely, who in a statement this morning said: "The child was left in my care by a man who said he was the father of it and he is the only one I shall recognize until the courts tell me to do differently. I don't know anything about the past history of either of the parties."

Attorney Angwin stated this morning that according to the law the mother in such a case is given the child by the law of the land and that the father will have little or nothing to say about it when it comes to a show down in the courts.

TO OPEN WASHINGTON STREET.

President Abrahamson Gives His Views on the Important Subject Before Club.

The Central Improvement Club met this morning in the chambers of the City Council and the executive committee, which has been laboring with the City Council for the last week relative to the opening of Washington street and the erection of a new City Hall, made its report.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

President Abrahamson of the club announced the following as the full executive committee, comprised of eleven members, which he was to appoint between the meetings: John A. Britton, Theodore Gier, Thomas Crellin, Fred Kahn, Anson Blake, Henry A. Butters, W. R. Davis, A. H. Schlueter, P. J. von Loben, Sels, H. C. Capwell and Hugo Abrahamson.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

After the announcement of the full executive committee President Abrahamson made the following address describing the work of the committee during the last few days.

"This club is hardly organized a week. Last Friday was the initial meeting. Already we find that citizens of all classes are joining with us to inaugurate a movement for the removal of the City Hall and to open Washington street to San Pablo.

"We claim the following: That the City Hall stands in the way of progress.

"That the removal of the City Hall will be a great benefit to our beautiful city.

"That the city of Oakland owns the land where the building stands, and therefore has the remedy in its own hands.

"That the charter gives the Council the right to pass an ordinance removing this blockade and opening this thoroughfare to the public.

"That by opening up Washington street to San Pablo the city will be the gainer of two frontages of an entire block in the very heart of the business center.

"That public safety demands that this street be opened to relieve the congestion now existing at the corner of Fourteenth and Broadway.

"Oakland must work out its own salvation. All citizens are awake at the possibilities that are in store for this city.

"Let us all get together and do something. Let us accomplish some one thing. We have been doing an awful lot of talking here in Oakland, now let us act. Let us get started for once. One good act will lead to another. Let us stop knocking.

"Let us all get in line and put our shoulders to the wheel.

"Every citizen must do his share, and we will accomplish good improvements for the city of Oakland.

"The executive committee appointed last Friday has had an interview with Mayor Mott who seems favorably disposed to any improvement for the benefit of Oakland.

"This committee also has had two meetings with the City Council Monday night and last night, and will have a meeting tonight with the Mayor and the improvement committee of the Council."

W. R. DAVIS.

Attorney W. R. Davis then addressed the merchants and others assembled on the benefits that would be derived from the opening of Washington street. He said:

"There is one point that I would like to clear up. That is that the charter gives the city the power to open the street, and that there is no possibility of an assessment being levied on any property. The opening of the street does not fall under the control of the Vrooman Act nor does it carry with it any assessment. There is a doubt in the minds of many persons on this subject, and it is well that this uncertainty be cleared up.

"The main difficulty that is encountered in the opening of the street is that the private interests of a few property owners may be considered as receiving all the benefit, or that some person who has a private benefit to be obtained by the street not being opened will oppose it. This is a false quantity. It has nothing to do with the case. If the opening of Washington street will not be a public benefit, then I trust the street will remain closed.

"I do not call on the city to open any street for the benefit of any private property owners. I do not believe either that those who would be benefited by the street should receive any more attention than the private owners who may be benefited. Private interest should play no part in these proceedings. If public necessity does not require the street be opened, then it is time that we cease our efforts.

PRIVATE INTERESTS.

"Just a point in case where private interest once worked a permanent injury to the city. Years ago the city could have purchased the Adams Point property as a park. Because some thought that the Adams estate was being unduly benefited the proposition was voted down. All admit now that it was a mistake for people to have allowed their judgment to be affected by a private interest. I trust that the people of Oakland will not allow any such sentiment to stand in the way on this occasion.

THE PARK.

"I am informed by real estate experts that if the City Hall Park was a piece of private property and Washington street was cut through that the frontage then would be of more value than it is now. If it would be a benefit to private property it would be a benefit from a financial point to public property. Be that as it may, the principal thing is the convenience of the public and we must bow to that and that alone.

"If we cannot prove that by opening the street we are devoting the property to a superior use to which it is now being put, then I will not ask the Council to vote for it. We must show the Councilmen that a street through the City Hall Park will be of more benefit to the public than the use of the same ground for a City Jail, and for the other uses it is now put to.

PUBLIC CONVENIENCE.

To show that it is a public convenience, I will call your attention to Broadway and Fourteenth streets. On a space say of 100 feet square there is an enormous traffic jammed. Telegraph Avenue, five miles long, empties its traffic squarely into Broadway, and all its traffic is crowded for the time being onto this 100 square feet. New Broadway extending from East Berkeley lets all of its traffic go onto this 100 square feet. Fourteenth street from East and West meets this 100 square feet at right angles. The Webster street train puts all of its passengers on this 100 feet of square ground. There are twenty miles of traffic, all of which is jammed on this 100 square feet. Would you like to send your daughter on the 100 square feet? Do you think it safe? Do you not think that there is need of another outlet?

"The City Council and the Mayor must be shown this condition. If in their opinion Broadway is a safe street and if they believe the opening of Washington street would not be a public benefit, then the private owners of property have no further call on the city government."

NEW CITY HALL.

After Attorney Davis had completed his talk, E. A. Bushnell asked if the project included the building of a new

PREVENT IMPENDING BATTLE

Roosevelt Wants to Stop Japanese Soldiers Are Fighting in Far East.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 21, 1905. President Roosevelt evidently has taken a new and important step in the negotiations between the belligerents.

While there are collateral reasons for believing that it relates to an armistice which will prevent the impending battle in Manchuria, this cannot be positively affirmed.

All that can be stated definitely is that Ambassador Meyer went suddenly to the Foreign Office late last night and had an interview with Foreign Minister Lansdowne at which it is believed that the Ambassador communicated an important message from President Roosevelt but neither at the Foreign Office nor the American Embassy is the slightest light thrown on what transpired.

From the extreme secrecy observed the matter beyond doubt is one of the greatest delicacy, but as the statement is vouchsafed at the Foreign Office that the negotiations are proceeding without a hitch the inference follows that it relates to a new phase in which the President has again taken the initiative.

This is the more certain since the communications between the belligerents relating strictly to the questions of the selection of the place time and the number of plenipotentiaries are conducted naturally through Ambassador Cassini and Minister Takahira through the intermediary of the Washington Government whereas, according to diplomatic procedure, only communications from the Washington Government reach Minister Lansdowne through Ambassador Meyer.

The stumbling block in the way of an armistice appears to be that neither belligerent is willing to take the initiative. The present negotiations consist of an effort to sound one or both governments as to their willingness to agree to an armistice.

There will be no official announcement regarding the possibilities of an armistice before the President returns, nor is it certain that a step will then be anything to be made public. The official circle here is strongly in favor of a cessation of hostilities as it is believed that a clash before the convening of the peace conference would hamper the work of the plenipotentiaries and might prove a serious menace to their efforts for peace.

President Abrahamson replied that was entirely within the province of the City Council, but that the opening of Washington street would be the first step in the direction of a new City Hall.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again at the call of the chair. The executive committee of the club will meet with the Mayor and Councilmen tonight.

FIGHTING ON PICKET LINES

Hammering Away at the Slavs.

TOKIO, June 21 4 p. m.—The following official dispatch was received today from the headquarters of the Japanese army in Manchuria.

"In the direction of Welyuanpaomen our detachment occupied Lienbauchleh June 18 without encountering resistance. It also occupied Yengmulin, twenty miles northwest of Welyuanpaomen and drove the enemy back to his positions on the Kiam road.

Further north another force the same day dislodged the enemy from Yuantzu pass and the vicinity ten miles north of Welyuanpaomen and occupied a line of hills north of Shiyutzu and those seven miles north of Yangtsu pass. Our forces also routed the enemy holding positions north and northwest of the same place.

"In the Changtu direction our force advanced along the railroad and dislodged the enemy's cavalry and infantry holding an eminence two miles north of Shiyutzu railroad station and took possession of a line of hills south of Sumatou and eighteen miles northeast of Changtu June 19. The station was found to be demolished. Our casualties were four men wounded. The enemy left ten corpses including the body of an officer and three horses killed. Our force captured one machine gun and one horse. The enemy's loss must have been heavy.

"Our force advancing on the Fenghua road after a vigorous fight with infantry and artillery from 3 in the morning of June 19 dislodged the enemy from Pefengshengkou ten miles southeast of Eidlenshan and occupied at 8 40 the same morning Luluokou sixteen miles north of Changtu.

San Leandro Lodge and take the steamer at Oakland arrangements having been made with the Oakland Traction Company to run special cars from San Leandro to the city wharf.

The steamer will call at the oil company's wharf Point Richmond and then on the members of the Richmond Lodge and their friends. The Richmond Knights are very enthusiastic over this trip and promise to swell the number by at least two hundred.

The lodges at Vallejo, Crockett, Benecia, Rio Vista and Black Diamond have been communicated with and no doubt large numbers from these places will join in the reunion and day's pleasure at Martinez. The people of Martinez are looking forward to this event with more than ordinary interest and a move is expected on the part of the citizens to make the 28th a general holiday. The special features at Martinez will be the parade from the wharf to the park exhibition drills by companies of the Uniformed Rank and a baseball game between the Knights of West Oakland and the Martinez Club for a liberal purse which is offered by Liberty Company. The steamer will leave the city wharf foot of Franklin street, at 9 a. m. and tickets can be procured from members of the company.

CHIEF HODGKINS CASE IS BEFORE BOARD.

Evidence Taken By Police Commission Showing How Lottery Ticket Was Mutilated.

The Police and Fire Commissioners, published Chief Hodgkins reiterated his story to the effect that when he permitted Barbero and his attorney to inspect the ticket that he was of the opinion that the word canceled was to be written across the face of the ticket, and that the numbers on the ticket were not to be mutilated or destroyed.

Hodgkins was corroborated in his statement by the other witnesses. There was nothing in the testimony taken by the Commissioners which would indicate there was anything connected with the case suggesting that the Chief's mistake was an intentional one or that any money passed between him and the agents of the lottery company.

The Commissioners will take up the investigation later on this week and will conclude it.

In speaking of the case City Attorney McElroy, one of the Commissioners said:

"There was nothing new developed in the testimony. We will however, continue the hearing and take all the evidence we can get on the subject."

The following was unanimously adopted: Whereas Since the increased price of service has resulted in decreased accommodation in the use of telephones in this section of the city.

Resolved That the district manager of the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company be requested to make a visit of inspection and of the East Oakland Central station with the hope that said visit (if made) will result in comparatively decent service.

Mr. Elsie moved that the club request, through the Street Committee of the Council information as to why the Street Department is so carefully repairing all the saucer-like holes on the little used side streets while absolutely neglecting the main traveled thoroughfares—East Twelfth East Fourteenth and East Fifteenth streets.

The president was requested to ascertain proper procedure to have signs placed at corners of all streets in the district, and report next meeting.

It was reported that the city's steam roller has been employed for some time past pumping stagnant water from depressions in private property and at public expense. If no better use can be found for the roller it was suggested that the owners of property pay for the service and not the long suffering taxpayer.

As the owners of property along Commerce street where the roller is now at work had a splendid opportunity while that street was being graded to have these places public nuisances and menaces to health and order them, as well as all similar pest holes filled at once. The idea that the city might fill up these holes for the owners did not meet with a flattering reception.

The club adjourned until Friday, July 7th.

TRACTION COMPANY.East Oakland People Complain That
They Are Given the Poorest
Kind of Service.

The residents of East Oakland are up in arms against what they consider the neglect of the Oakland Traction Company of that section of the city. In a ringing petition presented to the street railway company and the City Council, the prominent residents state their grievances.

In effect the traction company is accused of running an intentionally bad service so that passengers may not connect promptly with either the narrow or broad gauge cars. While it is not stated, it is intimated that the traction company is trying to build up the Key Route at the expense and inconvenience of its patrons in East Oakland. Here is the petition:

"East Oakland, May 15, 1905.

Oakland Traction Consolidated—Gentlemen: We, the undersigned residents of that portion of Oakland, East Oakland and Fruitvale, dependent upon that branch of your street railway system beginning at Broadway and Eighth street, and operating along Eighth street, Fifth avenue, East Eleventh street, Commerce street, East Twenty-first street, terminating at Fruitvale avenue and East Twenty-seventh street, beg to call attention to the very rough roadbed, the old, worn-out cars used, which are totally inadequate for handling the large and growing passenger traffic using this line.

"Our wives, daughters, mothers and sisters are compelled to stand in crowded platforms, or be jammed like cattle inside packed, stuffy cars, while we of the men who are able to get footroom, are compelled to hang on as best we can. Furthermore, the motor-men and conductors are so interfered with by the want of space to properly operate brakes and bells that the handling of cars makes it dangerous to life and limb."

"It is openly charged by men who are using this line that you are diverting traffic from Eighth street to your other lines to prevent close connection with the broad and narrow gauge trains. We have waited long and patiently, have seen your service perfected in other directions, and we have felt and now feel that our section is being neglected. We have decided upon concerted action in this matter and demand from you better service."

HE TELLS ABOUT
ZIONISMDR. B. S. SCHWARTZ DELIVERS
AN INTERESTING LECTURE
BEFORE CARMEL SOCIETY.

The following was delivered by Dr. B. S. Schwartz of Kansas City, Mo., before the Carmel Zion Society of Oakland, Cal., on Sunday, June 18th, 1905, at Foresters' Hall, Thirteenth and Clay streets, which was as follows:

"Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen—The question is often asked, what is Zionism and its aim. The movement known as Zionism, is Judaism, for Judaism proper is really Zionism. It is the national name for Judaism since our religious, political and social life began in Zion, and our holy laws given in Zion. As it is written, 'From Zion goeth forth the law and the word of God from Jerusalem.'"

"Furthermore, Zionism means to the true Jew, who is still devoted to his religion and his God, his home, his parental roof, for he considers God his father and Zion his mother; a longing after that home, once his sweet home."

"Zionism of today is a revival of the ancient political Zionistic Judaism. In its purity as handed down to us for the guidance of the people of Israel. Zionism is neither sectarian, professes no creed, is not orthodox nor reform, despotic, autocratic nor monarchial. Zionism aims at a reunion of all our people with God and His holy laws, the constitution of Zion, Judaism and Zionism, Zion's and daughter's, a reunion with both reform and orthodox Judaism into one grand and great people, without religious, political or social distinction, for the common cause and good of all."

INDEPENDENT HOME.

"Zionism craves for and aims to obtain an independent home for over five million of our Jewish people, present at the mercy of modern barbarians, degenerates and cruel despots. For Jews whose homes have been repeatedly robbed and destroyed, their wives, mothers, sisters and daughters, humanely outraged, the old and young slain and massacred, their sanctuaries desecrated and their lives made most miserable. Zionism therefore thinks that a people who have thus been deprived of the means, comforts and necessities of human existence, forced to travel and tramp for nearly nineteen hundred years, foot-soar, heartbroken, unjustly assaulted and insulted, persecuted and proscribed, rejected and despised, ostracized and humiliated, their properties confiscated, driven from their homes, from place to place, many fallen in their long, rough and rugged path, some forced to become strangers to the God of their fathers; many strangers to their brethren; and a great many even strangers to their own most holy religion. These are blots upon the pages of modern history, and a reproach upon the Christian nations that tolerate them. Yet they are true."

"Zionism claims that we, as a people, and in the name of justice and equity, are entitled to, and have a right, to have our wrongs righted, to free ourselves from our persecutors. Nay, it is our most holy duty we owe to our families and the coming generations, with even the aid and assistance of all Christian nations if need be, who have been benefited by our past history, by our laws and statutes, even by our own religious teachings in the belief in the one ever-living and true God, the foundation, purity and superstructure of civilization and Christendom itself; to have and to hold forever, a free and independent, a strictly Jewish state, the country that is our patrimony by divine right, title and deed so recorded in the holy records of all records, the book of books, the Holy Bible, as our inheritance, there, to rebuild our homes for our homeless people, Zion and its glory, a commonwealth of the Jewish people, by the Jewish people and for the Jewish people."

WILLING TO SACRIFICE.

"I know of no greater, sublimer, nobler, worthier and more dutiful cause to Judaism today, here and everywhere, than to come to the support of the standard of Zionism and its banner with your material aid, deed and action, to help to perpetuate this great movement that has attracted some of the best minds of our people and the great powers of the world. Then we need Jews of the highest and loftiest moral standard, of sterling integrity. Jews who are willing to bring some sacrifice into the fold of Zionism. Jews who have the stamina of standing for Judaism, at all times, under all conditions and in all walks of life. Jews with the most noble aspirations, self-esteem and high moral character. Jews whom I would call of the ancient, free and true patriots of Zion, or of Maccabean standard who stood and defended the holy cause of Israel, with body and soul. Jews who, above all, must be God-loving and God-fearing, firmly believing in His divine providence. His most estimable laws, statutes and commandments. His divine gift to Israel and through them to the world at large, to live up to and obey them. Jews of strong national pride, good citizenship, highest religious and moral qualities. Jews who are willing to restore our Sabbath and holy days, to keep them holy, reverently, respect divine worship, uphold the purity of family life and enforce religious education of the young.

"Jews in whose hearts and minds throb and permeates the ancestral love for everything that is purely Jewish, remembering that as long as our kings, rulers and people have lived up to and obeyed God's laws, and bowed to its majesty, they have prospered, but likewise fallen with its abrogation."

MUST BE JEWS.

"Then we must have Jews in this movement who are not identified with either socialism, anarchism, atheism or any moral impurities; who are un-Jewish, un-American and un-Zionistic. Those who are not for Judaism nor Americanism—in other words, who are against our religion and American institution, will never make good citizens of Zion. Weed them out; touch them not, for they are as the poison ivy. They have no standing in Judaism nor Zionism. I mean all those who defame our religion, profane the holy name of God, insult decency and corrupt American citizenship. Disown them, for they are like the remnants of the corrupt generation of Egyptian wilderness. Let them have no place in the movement, for they will contaminate and corrupt you. They are like the few rotten apples in a whole peck, that in time will destroy all. Shun them!"

"Let us, therefore, in order to strengthen this movement, cultivate the cardinal principles and virtues becoming and befitting a people who, though unjustly despised by the world, yet are the chosen by God to be the princes, peers, and priests of His holy covenants, laws and statutes, and let us shun vices that degenerate, corrupt and degrade both manhood, religion and citizenship. Let us prove to our adversaries and the world at large, by acts, deeds and conduct, that we are not only worthy, but able to resume the duties and obligations of self-government, and let us put our best efforts to obtain them, not by bloody conquest, but even by right of purchase, or, as I would put it, by repleting and take our place amongst the nations of the earth, which rightfully belongs to us, and fulfill our divine mission, the unity of God and the brotherhood of humanity."

BEST THOUGHTS.

"These, my friends, are my best thoughts upon Zionism, its aim and how to accomplish the same. I hope it will meet with your approval, and that you may be benefited by them and be brought closer to Zionism and Judaism, that our cherished hopes may be fulfilled and that all nations may join us in proclaiming that God is one, and His name is one."

DR. SHANNON
SUES FOR DAMAGES

Dr. J. N. Shannon of Telegraph avenue and Nineteenth street brought suit yesterday to recover damages to the amount of $16,400 from the Grayson-Owen Meat Company. This suit is brought to recover that amount of damages on account of a collision between Dr. Shannon's buggy and a runaway team belonging to the meat company.

At the time of the accident Dr. Shannon and his driver, Hurst Parkin, were thrown to the ground, and sustained injuries. Dr. Shannon had his nose and a rib broken and a fractured hip.

Suit was recently brought against the Grayson-Owen Meat Company by Parkin, in which he received $2,000 for damages received at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams will leave for a few weeks camping trip on the Russian River.

PRETTY WEDDING AT DEL MONTE

PACIFIC GROVE, June 21.—A very pretty wedding was held at St. John chapel, Del Monte, today, when Chas. H. Crocker, eldest son of the late H. S. Crocker of San Francisco, and Miss Carlotta Stelner, a leading society belle of Cincinnati, O., were united. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Charles C. Cox, who, together with his wife, has come here from Cincinnati to perform the ceremony, the reverend gentleman being an intimate friend of the bride. The wedding was a strictly private affair, only the relatives and immediate friends of the bride and groom attending.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pringle came from Chicago to attend the wedding of their favorite niece, while the groom's family was represented by his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Crocker and W. H. Crocker of San Francisco. There was no elaborate ceremony, all arrangements being in harmony with the elegance and quietness of Del Monte. The bride was attended by Miss M. H. Hennessey as maid of honor and Henry J. Crocker waited upon the groom. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party boarded a north-bound train and will spend the first weeks of their married life at Lake Tahoe, after which they will return to San Francisco, their future home.

Colonel S. P. Crane, who since 1887 has been interested in California lands and other industries, has been selected to make the exhibit at Portland for Alameda county.

Colonel Crane was for many years a resident of Los Angeles and lent his influence in building up that city, having a large acquaintance in the East. For fifteen years he was a partner and foreign manager of the Importing firm of Crane & Co. of New York City, with branches in several European cities.

After a residence in California, and watching the growth of the State, he became convinced that the Oriental nations would in time become large consumers of American products and that San Francisco Bay would be the gateway to all those nations; that ultimately Oakland harbor would be the transcontinental point of shipment, when the car and steamship come together. Consequently the Colonel has located in Oakland, fully convinced that this side of the bay will ultimately contain the largest city on the western coast of this nation, and that if the methods of advertising employed by Los Angeles could be adopted here Oakland would in ten years have more people than San Francisco.

The Alameda County Commissioners have accomplished much in making the exhibit at St. Louis, and have instructed Colonel Crane to spare nothing in making the Alameda exhibit a success in Portland. Too much praise cannot be given the commissioners for the advertising they are doing in every respect. Messrs. Gier, Welby and Walker are not appreciated. They are building better than they know. Colonel Crane will leave for Portland tomorrow night.

JUDGE MORROW
IN A RUNAWAY

SAN RAFAEL, June 21.—Judge W. W. Morrow of the United States Circuit Court and his wife had a narrow escape from death yesterday. Just as they were leaving the California Northwestern depot in their carriage the horse became frightened at a snorting automobile and plunged forward and bolted. The carriage was overturned and the Judge and his wife, who were seated on a rear seat, were thrown out.

Friends picked them up and they were driven home in the private carriage of President Foster of the California Northwestern. Judge Morrow's back was slightly wrenched and his wife suffered a slight scalp wound and confusion on her face and body.

ARRESTED ON A FORGERY CHARGE

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—John W. Hill, former chief of the Filtration Bureau, who was arrested late yesterday on charges of forgery and falsifying official records, was given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Eisen Brown today.

THE LATEST NEWS OF THE DAY=4:30 P. M.

ATTORNEY O'GRADY IS TRIED TO IN CONTEMPT.

Fined Two Hundred Dollars By Judge Lawlor For Being
Impudent to Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Alexander L. O'Grady, Police Commissioner and attorney, was this morning sentenced by Judge Lawlor to pay a fine of $200 for contempt of court. O'Grady tried to escape the punishment, but his arguments had no influence with the judge.

After sentence had been pronounced O'Grady left the courtroom and declared he would not pay the fine, and when Deputy Sheriff Martin Welch asked him to settle he made a contemptuous remark and entered another courtroom.

Welch returned to Judge Lawlor and reported O'Grady. The judge then instructed Welch to take the lawyer into custody.

O'Grady again appeared at the bar of the court and Judge Lawlor ordered that an execution issue for the collection of the fine. O'Grady says he will go to the Supreme Court on a writ of review, hoping to escape the payment of the money.

The contempt proceedings were taken up immediately after the Rebstock case was concluded. O'Grady asked the court reporter to read from his minutes the record of the language used at the time the contempt finding was made. Judge Lawlor said that the reading of the record at that juncture was not necessary.

The court then proceeded to review the circumstances. "You conducted yourself in a contemptuous and insolent manner," said the judge, "and your behavior was calculated to interrupt the proceedings of the court. You were then adjudged guilty of contempt of court and this time was set for passing judgment."

O'Grady objected to the jurisdiction of the court, claiming that by not completing the punishment at the time the offense was committed the court lost power to proceed further at this time. In that connection he read from the California Reports a case in which W. W. Foote was adjudged guilty of contempt by Judge Greene of Alameda county some years ago. In that case, however, the court did not even find Foote guilty until fifty days subsequent to the offense.

Judge Lawlor pointed out that where Judge Greene had taken no action at the time of the offense, he (Lawlor) had acted promptly in the O'Grady matter.

"It is not clear in my mind just what was done," said O'Grady. "I am not certain whether I was adjudged guilty of contempt at the time or not, and I am not certain as to just what language was used. Was I adjudged guilty or was I cited to appear and show cause why I should not be adjudged guilty?"

"You were adjudged guilty," replied the court.

At O'Grady's request the reporter then read from yesterday's proceedings, and O'Grady proceeded to make what he termed a "legal" showing.

While not involving moral turpitude, he argued, contempt of court, in its consequences, is of a quasi-criminal nature and entitled a respondent to be heard before being found guilty. He had not been given such a hearing.

"I did not know at the time," he went on, "that a contempt order was under consideration by the court. I was asked if I had used the word 'arbitrary' and I replied that I had. I was then asked if I had used it advisedly, and I replied in the affirmative. I had no thought of placing myself in contempt, but the court adjudged me guilty without giving me a chance to be heard or to make a showing. I feel that I am entitled to a hearing at this time on matters of fact. That is my legal showing."

Judge Lawlor read from Section 1209 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which defines the term "contempt of court," and also read Section 1211, which declares that a contempt, committed in the immediate presence and view of the court, is punishable in a summary manner.

"The court took prompt action in this matter," the judge continued, "and adjudged you guilty. A hearing was not necessary. Therefore your legal objections are overruled."

"The respondent takes an exception to the ruling of the court," said O'Grady. "There is nothing in the record to show any contempt of the authority of this court. The record shows that I took an exception to the arbitrary action of the court, but surely that is not to be construed as contempt. The word arbitrary, in its primary meaning, has the sense of depending upon will or discretion. That was the sense in which I used it. I had no thought of contempt. You asked me questions which I truthfully answered. Had I known that you contemplated contempt proceedings I should have taken steps to maintain my rights."

"The appellate tribunals, in their decisions of cases on appeal from the lower courts, often use the word 'arbitrary.' No contempt is meant by them. The law recognizes an abuse of discretion by a court, and in the course of my practice I have often argued to judges that they had abused their discretion. I never did so, however, with contemptuous thought, and no judge ever took exception to my conduct. In this case I did to present a matter relating to the material rights of my client. You shut me off, and I expected to your arbitrary action. For that I was found guilty of contempt."

"Since occupying a place on the bench," said O'Grady, "I have been a source of self-congratulation to me that I have never before been compelled to punish any member of the bar for improper conduct. But this case is one that cannot be overlooked. The court did not act until your conduct became such as to require it to maintain its dignity and authority. The court afforded you plenty of time for reflection and a change of course, but you did not profit therefrom. The use of the word 'arbitrary' in itself would not constitute contempt, but your actions, taken altogether, were such as to be contemptuous. O'Grady said he wanted to be sworn, so as to make a showing on matters of fact."

Matters of fact have been disposed of," said Judge Lawlor. "If you have anything to offer in mitigation of the offense, you are entitled to offer it. O'Grady said he wanted to be given a hearing, but the court was resolute. The lawyer then said: 'I have nothing to say in mitigation of the offense. I am not guilty. I know that I am not guilty, and I will make no admission of guilt.'"

Judge Lawlor imposed a fine of $200, making no alternative of imprisonment, but directing the Deputy Sheriff to take O'Grady to the jail.

O'Grady will take an appeal.

Santa Monica Man Has a Terrible Midnight Experience.

SANTA MONICA, June 21.—Shrieking with terror and pain, William L. Vanderhook burst from the door of his cottage last night, his clothing in flames and firing a revolver at the retreating figure of a masked man who had tried to murder him.

Vanderhook was sound asleep when his window was broken and burning oil poured upon his bed.

He was enveloped in flames. His life was saved by neighbors, but his cottage was destroyed.

Vanderhook a few nights since was overpowered by three masked men who stripped and bound him, painted a message on his body and threatened his life unless he left town.

Yesterday Spencer Kennedy and Ed. Lawton were arrested and put under bonds.

A third man has left town. During the progress of the fire, threats of lynching were openly made.

Officials must pay poll taxes.

The poll tax men are about to make a descent on county and city officials for their poll taxes and a list is now being made out in the assessor's office of those who have not paid and unless the money is forthcoming by the last of July their salaries are to be attached.

It is estimated that fully two hundred city and county officials throughout the county have failed to pay their poll taxes and preparations are now being made to gather them all in. As soon as the list is complete each man is to be sent a notice and then if not paid the County Treasurer will be called upon not to pay their salaries until the demands have been satisfied.

William Hamilton, an aged veteran of the Civil war who on June 7 was sentenced to thirty days imprisonment by Police Judge Samuels on a charge of vagrancy was this morning pardoned by Governor Pardee.

It seems the old fellow is a resident of San Jose. He came to Oakland to collect his pension money. After receiving the donation of the government he spent it freely and drank himself into vagrancy and drunkenness.

He has been provided with funds to return to his home.

MITCHELL ON TRIAL

PORTLAND, Ore., June 21.—The trial of United States Senator John H. Mitchell, charged with using his office for private gain in connection with the land frauds in this state, began in Judge De Haven's court today, and for the first time in his life and at the age of three score and ten, Senator Mitchell faced a jury of his peers.

United States District Attorney Henry's arraignment of Mitchell was most severe. His outline of the case of the Government was exhaustive, but it contained nothing that has not heretofore been made public through the indictment returned against the aged Senator. Attorney A. S. Bennett, counsel for the defendant, denied the allegations of the prosecution.

F. W. DUNNE WILL PROSECUTE CASE

F. W. Dunne states that there is no truth in the publication of the story to the effect that he will not prosecute the case of Robbins on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Mr. Dunne states that he will prosecute the case to a finish. He has nothing to hide in the matter and does not fear anything that may be brought up against him. He will stand on the merits of the case and will simply ask for justice.

MERCHANTS' PHONE TOLD TO SYSTEM
ON S. P.
LEAVE
TO CROWNJapanese Have Little Use Permits
For Foreigners at Port Arthur.

CHEFOO, June 21, 9 P. M.—Reliable information stated that previous to the naval battle in the Japan Sea the Japanese commandant at Port Arthur notified the manager for Kunst and Albers, the most prominent mercantile house in Port Arthur that in case the Japanese won the expected naval engagement, he must be prepared to close up the business and leave Port Arthur.

As soon as the result of the battle became known all foreigners at Port Arthur were officially informed to prepare to depart and to remove their merchandise within forty days. The Japanese officials gave no explanation of this action.

Kunst and Albers applied to their head office at Hamburg to intercede for an extension of time.

Failing to obtain this the manager prepared to depart for Shanghai to make arrangements for the shipment of his goods. He notified the Japanese authorities that he would soon return but was informed that he could not return as foreigners would not be allowed to enter Port Arthur. The manager had to leave an attorney to represent him and then departed to arrange transportation.

The manager of Sietas, Block and Company, who has large interests in Port Arthur, states that he will not comply with the order to remove his merchandise. He says the Japanese informed him that only Japanese steamers will be allowed to transfer property affected by the order.

Sietas, Block and Company have large vested interests at Port Arthur. The order affects four German houses, Clarkson and Company, an American house, and several French and Greek firms.

The Japanese since the surrender of Port Arthur have purchased but little from the firms mentioned and all have large stocks of goods still in their warehouses.

LOBB LIVED AT SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, June 21.—Thomas Lobb, who killed himself in a sensational manner in San Francisco this morning after having shot nine persons was a resident of this city for nearly two years, leaving here a month or so ago.

While he was working at his trade as a carpenter and bore a good reputation as a workman.

He was not known to drink. Just prior to leaving he was involved in a fight with a fellow carpenter and was thought by his acquaintances to be somewhat of a fighter in mind. He was an Englishman, about thirty-five years of age.

NOTES

BUDAPEST, June 21.—The Feriary Ministry presented itself before the lower house today and had a foretaste of the disposition of the united opposition. The Premier in a brief statement explained that the Cabinet was only a stop in the gap and would make way as soon as possible after the recoupling of Hungary's quota for the army and the arrangement of the joint expenditure for a regular Ministry.

The Premier then produced a royal autograph letter, which the united opposition concluded was an order for the prorogation of the Diet, and the members determined to defer the prorogation until they had passed a vote of confidence in the Ministry. The united opposition thereupon broke out into a tremendous uproar and the session was suspended without the Diet being read.

When the Diet was reassembled it was resolved not to hear the letter until the regular business was disposed of. After the Premier declaring that this proceeding was contrary to traditional usage he left the house with the whole Ministry. Francis Kossuth, leader of the united opposition, in behalf of the coalition majority immediately moved a vote of want of confidence in the Ministry on the ground that it was not a parliamentary Ministry.

Former Premier Tisza also moved a vote of want of confidence in the name of the Liberals, laying stress on the dangers which would ensue from antagonism to the crown, and the Diet by a large majority adopted Kossuth's motion. The house then permitted the reading of the opening sentences of the Emperor-King's letter proroguing the Diet to September 15, but in the midst of the reading scenes of the greatest disorder occurred. A violent demonstration was made by the opposition, who were assailed by opprobrious epithets. The tumult was so great that the president of the House was again obliged to suspend the sittings, but ultimately he managed to secure a hearing of the concluding sentences of the letter.

The House then adjourned amid intense excitement.

LABOR MARKET
MONOPOLY

AGAINST POLICY OF LAW TO FORCE LABORERS TO

BOSTON, June 21.—The Massachusetts Supreme Court handed down a decision today holding that the attempt to force all laborers to combine in unions is against the policy of the law, because it acts as a monopoly of the labor market.

BOARD OF WORKS IN SESSION

At the meeting of the Board of Public Works this morning Mayor Mott suggested that in decorating the City Hall for the Fourth of July that the $250 appropriated by the City Council for decorating purposes be not spent in bunting, but that it be invested in flags, which could be used on all similar occasions.

The other members of the board took this view of it and instead of cheap-looking bunting being used flags of good quality will be used.

D. E. Brown was awarded the contract of building a culvert in Harrison street, crossing the Boulevard, for $16,238.25. The location of the North Adeline Improvement Club for additional police protection was placed on the matter for that town. The Southern California delegations will arrive this afternoon.

CANNOT COLLECT INSURANCE

There is trouble over the payment of this life insurance of the late James Hutchinson and suit was brought this morning by Jessie R. Hutchinson, his widow, against the Conservative Life Insurance Company of Los Angeles to recover $1500 on a policy held by her husband in that company. She states that although she has made several demands for the money it has not been forthcoming and that she has been told that the company holds some sort of an assignment of the policy. She says that the policy never was assigned by her husband and that she never changed the beneficiary and that she never consented to any such alteration, and she asks the court to give her the money and her costs.

TEAMSTER IS RUN DOWN

C. Christanson, a teamster living at 670 Broadway was run over this morning at the foot of Third street but was not seriously injured. A heavy wagon passed over his arm and leg but he got up and stopped his horses and then proceeded to the Resolving Hospital to find how badly he was hurt. Seemingly, besides a few bruises there was nothing the matter with him and he went back to his work.

PLEADS GUILTY.

Ben Templeton pleaded guilty before Police Judge Smith this morning to two charges of petty larceny, one of stealing a watch from H. H. Colby and another of stealing a lawn mower from E. B. Bangle. The defendant was sentenced to six months each on the charges, making a total of a year he will have to serve.

Franco-German Negotiations Put on Paper.

PARIS, June 21.—The Franco-German negotiations on the subject of Morocco have reached a stage where notes are being exchanged exactly defining the verbal assurances Premier Rouvier and Prince Radolin, the German Ambassador, here, have given. This is recognized as a difficult and delicate stage, finally committing the two governments to a written line of policy. Therefore public opinion has again been somewhat aroused over the possibility of new difficulties during the exchange of notes. The official view continues hopeful.

M. Rouvier's acceptance of the principle of a conference is conditioned on Germany fully defining the scope of the conference and relieving it from questions which constitute a menace to Prince or the sacrifice of rights or obligations under other international agreements.

A final decision appears to depend on how far Germany is willing to give these assurances in writing. In the meantime more or less of a renewal of the tension is anticipated while the governments are debating of the terms of the written agreement.

TO ENTERTAIN
EDITORS

The members of the National Editorial Association, whose stay in this section of the State is being made pleasant under the auspices of the California Promotion Committee, will visit this and adjoining cities on Saturday next. The local Board of Trade is just in receipt of a message stating that about 350 delegates of the National Editorial Association will visit this city, Berkeley and Alameda on Saturday afternoon, leaving San Francisco at 1:40 o'clock via the Key route. They will go direct to Berkeley and through the grounds of the University of California, thence will come into the center of Oakland and from there to Piedmont Gardens, and after a short stay in the gardens will probably go to Alameda.

MONEY LENDER
IN COURT

K. Knochke, money-lender, was before Police Judge Smith this morning on a charge of violating the provisions of an act of the Legislature which makes it unlawful to charge more than 14 per cent a month on loans on chattel mortgages. The defendant is accused of exacting 3 per cent from H. Hoben on a chattel mortgage of $100. He is alleged to have charged $6 for the examination of the goods on which money was loaned, to have demanded and received two-thirds interest in advance. The provisions of the statute of the regulation of loans alleged to have been done by Knochke.

The other money-lenders in town are anxious to make a test case of the law. It is alleged that as the law provides a fine of $100 for the first offense, but does not provide an alternative of imprisonment, the number of days to be spent in prison in event the fine is not paid, and is therefore invalid.

GIVES HIS OPINION.

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—In an interview today, Epes Randolph says that the decision of Secretary Hitchcock that the decision of Secretary Hitchcock, General of the Third Office relative to disputed right of way, does not conclude the matter. Neither Government official has right to give title to public grounds. Courts must decide and the case will be carried to the Court of last resort.

KING WILL NOT TROUBLE NORWEGIAN PEOPLE.

Takes a Painful Course But Will Not Oppose the Stand Taken By Norway.

to her definitive approval of the resolution and agree to annulling the act of the union.

PAINFUL STEP.
After several members had acquiesced in the Premier's views, King Oscar, with visible emotion, spoke as follows:

"It is a painful step which the Council of State calls on me to take. My conscience tells me that I have during my long reign always striven towards the object I had in mind at the time of the accession of my father, namely, the good of the brother-people. It is truly painful to me to contribute to the dissolution of a union in which I thought I saw the independence, security and happiness of the united kingdom. If, however, I am ready to do thus, it is to avoid a still worse evil and the conviction that the union without mutual accord would bring no real advantage to Sweden.

HIS CONSCIENCE.

"I have acted," the king said, "in accordance with my conscience and always in conformity with the constitution and with the desire of the people for the true welfare of the peoples. The bill presented to the Riksdag does not aim at repaying to the injustice by acts of coercion. The union is not worth the sacrifices which would be required to bring it to a union into which Norway would be forced in such a manner would be of little value to Sweden."

The king concluded with expressing the hope that the Swedish people would be guided by wisdom and prudence and that God would give them strength and unity to regain within their own frontiers what they had lost by the dissolution of the union.

Business Office and Publishing House, 413-417 Eighth Street, Oakland.

Industrial Education For Negroes.

The opposition of many colored men to the policy of making industrial training the leading feature of negro education for the present is due to a narrow and short-sighted idea of the real mission of education. At this stage of the race's development it is much more important that negroes be trained to be scientific mechanics, engineers and farmers than that they should be educated as lawyers, physicians, dentists and doctors of theology. This does not imply that they are unfitted for scholarship or the polite professions, but is based on the fact that conditions are not yet favorable to colored men entering the learned professions. Colored people are poor as a class compared to whites, and their patronage is neither large enough nor lucrative enough to support any considerable body of professional men in comfortable independence, and very few white people will employ colored lawyers, doctors and dentists.

This is a condition, not a theory. Hence a knowledge of how to till the soil to the best advantage, to handle tools with the greatest ease and efficiency, and the best method of applying the science of mechanics in industrial pursuits promises larger and surer returns than a knowledge of the classics. The negro carpenter or bricklayer can make more money than the average colored lawyer or doctor. He will be more apt to accumulate property and give his race a firmer footing in society.

This fact has furnished the keynote of Booker Washington's philosophy. Learn to use your brains and hands in conjunction, he says; work to some definite purpose; buy land; build good homes; put money in the bank, and make yourselves one of the stable and solid elements of society. All other things will come in the natural order once the negro is able to stand firmly on his feet industrially and financially. There will then be plenty of openings for lawyers, scholars, physicians and doctors of divinity for colored men and higher education will not be a mockery to them as it is now to the great majority who pass through college to become bachelors of arts, philosophy and science only to find that their diplomas are of less practical benefit than the ability to cook a steak well or lay brick properly.

Ill-advised attempts to make classic scholars out of colored men before there was any place for them in society have done much to retard the progress and development of the race. While being taught Latin and Greek they forgot how to handle the plow and the hoe, and too often found themselves educated out of their sphere in life or any legitimate calling at which they could obtain employment. Can any greater humiliation be placed on a man than to give him a collegiate education and then turn him out to make a living blacking boots or waiting on table? A vast deal of harm has resulted from doing just that thing. Yet in spite of the bitter lessons of experience there are many negroes who deride the system of industrial training at Hampton, Tuskegee and lesser noted schools of their class and demand classical and professional education for the colored youth. Such do not realize that industrialism is the dominant feature of human life today, and that industrial training is becoming more and more a feature of popular education in all white schools. The classics have not passed, but the day of classicism has, and it is now a co-ordinate of applied science.

The reigning house of Sweden illustrates the absurdity of the divine right fiction and the fallacy of the kingly tradition. King Oscar, good sovereign and excellent man that he is, is neither royal nor a Swede. He is the descendant of a plebeian family of French and Italian extraction. He was called to the throne of Sweden by the voice of the Swedish people, who feared for the independence of their country in a period of turmoil and almost continuous war, and wanted a strong and able military chief at the head of the nation. That is why Bernadotte, Napoleon's field marshal, was adopted in 1810 by the King and people of Sweden as their crown prince. Bernadotte justified his selection by holding off from the coalition against Napoleon formed after the Moscow campaign till he received the guarantees for Sweden he demanded. In pursuance of those guarantees Norway, then an appanage of Denmark, was ceded to Sweden in 1814. These facts of history are only recalled to show how the present royal line runs back only two generations to a foreign military chief of humble birth. The house of Hohenzollern had for its founder a robber chief from Swabia, and King Edward of England is about as English as a Frankfurter sausage. The King of Spain is Austrian and French and largely of plebeian stock, while the Czar of Russia is Teutonic entirely. He is not a Slav and is not descended from the house of Rurik.

The Bowen-Loomis Scandal.

After reading the President's letter to Secretary Taft, summing up the results of the inquiry into the Bowen-Loomis scandal, it is easy to understand the difficulties our government has recently encountered in dealing with Venezuela. Minister Bowen's animosity toward Mr. Loomis led him to give currency to the gravest charges against his predecessor. He diligently searched for documents and word of mouth accusations to incriminate the Assistant Secretary of State. He personally gave to the correspondent of the New York Herald the false story that President Castro had in his possession a letter and a check incriminating Mr. Loomis in connection with the Bermudez asphalt controversy. This scandalous story was republished in the press of Venezuela, and had the backing of Minister Bowen, who thus became sponsor for the charge that the Acting Secretary of State was guilty of corrupt dealings while Minister to Venezuela.

No wonder negotiations with Venezuela got into a tangle. The situation brought about by Bowen's efforts to disgrace his predecessor was one that precisely suited the purposes of such a tricky unscrupulous demagogue as Castro, who was quick to avail himself of it. He knew the check-and-letter story given by Bowen to the New York Herald was absolutely false; he probably originated it himself. But he nevertheless acted as though the story was true. He thus played the American Minister against the American State Department in a most delicate matter.

It is a most unfortunate affair. It has destroyed the diplomatic career of Mr. Bowen, who at one time promised to have a brilliant future, and leaves Mr. Loomis under the reproach of having acted indiscreetly. In a diplomat indiscretion sometimes very nearly approaches a crime, as it may have results far reaching in their consequences in the adjustment of international disputes. In this particular case the indiscretion of Mr. Loomis has, through the vindictive hostility of Minister Bowen and the shrewd tergiversation of President Castro, caused our government great embarrassment. It has furnished the groundwork for a scandal that has delayed settlement of an irritating dispute and injured our prestige with other South American nations.

Mr. Loomis has been rightfully exonerated of all acts and dealings affecting his official integrity and personal probity, but the facts brought to light are not a high testimonial to his discretion and judgment. He will hardly be promoted in the diplomatic service and may retire after a suitable term from it as a consequence of the inquiry. There can be no doubt but what the President has done substantial justice in passing judgment upon the evidence in the case, but it is to be regretted that the disagreeable duty of passing on it all should have been forced on him. However, after the stories affecting the integrity of Mr. Loomis were set afloat through the agency of Minister Bowen, the only thing to be done was to hold a searching inquiry and give the facts developed by it to the public. The President has done his duty in this instance in the prompt, vigorous, impartial manner characteristic of him.

The Kept Organ a Failure.

Experience has amply proved the truth of this bit of wisdom from the Portland Oregonian: "A newspaper must exist for its own sake, or it is nothing. Banks and corporations have their legitimate field, but the newspaper is alien to it. Blight strikes every newspaper that has other purposes behind it than those of its own proper work and existence."

A journal that is merely the mouthpiece for some special interest or a literary tout for some corporation is not and never can be a newspaper in the true sense of the word. In a little while everybody gets to understand its mission in life; to know that its ostensible publisher is one of the cogs in another machine, and that he is turning a crank to grind private axes. The news is colored and distorted to fit the schemes of operators behind the scenes, and the editorial opinions are such as will help the special interests the journal was instituted to serve. It has been observed, however, that all such publications fail of their object. They are never a success financially, and in the end invariably prove a thorn in the side of those who foot its bills.

It may not be important, but it is a fact nevertheless that the assassin of the prime minister of Greece is neither a lunatic nor an anarchist, but a plain gambler.

The Philadelphia ringsters now propose to impeach Mayor Weaver for accepting the presents they made him before he "queered" the gas steal. If he had stood in they would have made him still more valuable presents and voted him all right. Which proves that honesty is the best policy.

Did anybody hear an amen from the Rockefeller pew to Grover Cleveland's remark about maintaining old-fashioned standards of honesty?

Judging from the criticisms of the Bee the place of the Mayor, Chief of Police and Councilmen of Sacramento in the Fourth of July parade is with "the horrors." The Bee insists that they are, with two or three exceptions, horrible examples.

WEDDING AT AN AUBURN CHURCH

MISS DALE HARTLEY BECOMES BRIDE OF RIVES
BAKER.

The marriage of Miss Dale Hartley and Rives Baker of this city was solemnized last evening at the Episcopal church at Auburn. The church was beautifully decorated with pink sweet peas, carnations and ferns, and about 400 friends witnessed the pretty ceremony.

The bride was gowned in white chiffon, with a transparent yoke of rare lace, and her bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. The matron of honor was Mrs. David Hartley, and the group of bridesmaids, gowned in pink and carrying pink sweet peas, included Miss Vera Cope, Miss Willis, Miss Sallie and Miss Elsie Mulligan.

The nuptial service was read by the Rev. Dr. Glover and the groom was attended by his brother, Cleve Baker. The ushers included Ray Baker, Ray Taylor, Walter Leimert and Albert Kenyon.

Following the church ceremony there was a large garden reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Todd in Auburn. The grounds were lighted with hundreds of lanterns, and the wedding supper was served outdoors.

After a honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Baker will make their home at Piedmont, where a charming house is ready for them.

GORDON-UPHAM.

The marriage of Miss Cordelia Dean Gordon and Isaac Oliver Upham will take place this evening at Trinity church in San Francisco. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. Frederick Clappett, and the bride will be given into the groom's keeping by her father, General David P. Gordon.

Mrs. Dennis Searies, attired in a lace gown, will be the only attendant. Benjamin P. Upham, brother of the groom, will act as best man. The ushers include Douglas MacBryde, Charles S. Trisler, Temple Smith and W. H. Smith Jr.

After the ceremony there will be an informal reception at the home of the bride's brother, Philip K. Gordon, on Washington street.

Mr. Upham and his bride will occupy a home adjoining the Searies residence at Piedmont.

HOME WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Ida Bell and George Whipple of this city will take place tomorrow evening at the home of the bride's parents on Oak street. The bride will wear a pretty traveling suit and will be attended by Miss Gertrude Baker. Miss Edith Darling will play the wedding march.

The groom will be attended by his brother, Edward Whipple. The wedding will be a quiet home affair, attended only by relatives and a few close friends. After a honeymoon the young people will make their home in this city.

AT BROOKDALE.

Mrs. W. H. Eligh and children are at Brookdale Santa Cruz county where they will spend about two months of the summer vacation.

AT LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Charles Munroe Goodall was hostess recently at a delightful luncheon given at the Claremont Country Club for Mrs. Sydney Peck who is visiting her daughter Mrs. Will Hubbard. The guests were all old friends and included among others Mrs. Jules Gerberding of San Francisco, Mrs. Harry Knowles and Mrs. Charles Minor Cooper.

CARD PARTY

One of the pleasant events of the week was the card party given by Miss Viola Brandard at her Berkeley home for Miss Leslie Green.

Among Miss Brandard's guests were Miss Green, Miss Laura Thomas, Mrs. Fred Fenwick, Miss Gabriel Ostland, Miss Carol Day, Miss Bertha Rickoff, Miss Marie Hall, Miss Keiley Patterson, Mrs. Hugh Price, Mrs. Ray Greenleaf, Miss Curtis of Colorado Springs, who is visiting Mrs. Price, and a number of others.

CHURCH WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Leontine Blakeman and Captain Robert Franklin McMillan is an event today at Trinity church. Rev. Dr. Clappett officiating.

Four hundred guests will be present at the church ceremony and one hundred and fifty at the house reception. The bride has two attendants, Mrs. Robert Greer and Mrs. Silas Palmer, gowned in Directoire costumes in three pastel shades. Their skirts are cream lace over which are worn Directoire coats of satin brocade. In-

CARE OF THE COMPLEXION.

In beginning this series of sketches outlining the proper care of the complexion I wish to call your attention, first of all to the difference between the skin of a healthy baby and the average grown person. Very few children have other than a fine skin smooth free from pimples or blemishes and clear and wholesome looking. But when a girl becomes say, 15 years of age, what a change has taken place. The skin has lost its color and is sallow, or mottled, or freckled and what little remains of the original beauty is for the most part, hidden by the defects.

For this change there are several reasons one or more probably all of which may have contributed to the general result. To begin most children have a horror of soap and water. When a girl reaches her teens a fine almost invisible down appears on her face and the rapid increase in the number of hair follicles causes a great change in the structural condition of the skin.

FIRST TROUBLE.

These follicles being immature are easily injured, and numerous micro organisms which may be deposited by the air are likely to affect them seriously. Therefore, when these germs obtain a lodgment in the skin and are not washed away trouble begins.

Children should be taught to use a good bland soap upon the face every morning and night.

Whether hot or cold water be employed depends upon each individual case. Thus an oily skin indicates the need of warm water, while a dry skin acts best with cold. Furthermore the employment once or twice a week of good cold cream is to be recommended.

The face first should be washed and dried then the cream rubbed vigorously into the skin after which the excess may be wiped off with a towel.

When about to wash the face the hands should always be washed first, the bowl then emptied and refilled before the face is washed. One serious trouble is that most people wash their faces with dirty hands.

The wash rag should be changed once daily otherwise germs can develop and so affect the face. Now that wash-rags are so cheap it is not an extravagance to have a good supply so that they can be sent down to the laundry with the other linen.

Here the laundress boils them in washing soda which is one of the best known germicides. After this in passing the hot iron over them she destroys any germ life which might remain.

For obvious reasons a sponge is a dangerous enemy to the skin. A very familiar example to the action of bacteria is when the sponge becomes slimy. This slimy feeling is caused by millions of germs, which are constantly increasing in this favorable soil.

USE FRESH WATER

The face should never be washed with dirty water or water that has been standing in a pitcher. For example, do not wash with the water provided in railroad cars, where often

OLD MAIDS AND MARRIAGE

I would advise all girls of twenty-eight to give themselves a mental overhauling.

Make up your mind that if you should be an old maid you will be a popular one.

Just because a girl is thirty or over is no reason why she should give up going about and enjoying herself.

There is no reason why an old maid should not be an exceedingly popular, much sought after person.

This article is for girls of twenty-eight and over.

Those who are younger need not read it, as it does not apply to them.

When a girl reaches that age and is not married, not engaged, the dread words "old maid" loom large and terrible before her.

She is so afraid that she will be an old maid that she begins to look and act the part long before there is any necessity for so doing.

Her very dread of the thing she would avoid drives her toward it.

The women of today do not marry nearly as young as did their grandmothers, and no girl of twenty-eight need jump to the conclusion that she will be an old maid.

However, in case that undesirable contingency should occur it is well to be prepared to meet it in the right spirit.

Make up your mind that if you should be an old maid you will be a popular one.

Don't be cranky and prim and narrow minded.

The reason more girls of twenty-eight and thirty don't marry is because they let themselves grow narrow and set in their ways.

They lose all their girlishness. They grow old both mentally and physically long before they need to.

What they should do is to keep their bodies young and supple by exercise and healthy living and their minds young and stimulated by keeping their eyes open and being interested in their fellow beings.

There is no reason why an old maid should not be an exceedingly popular, much sought after person.

But in order to be this she will have to be a lovable, intelligent, sympathetic woman.

Men always enjoy talking to a woman of this class, be she twenty or fifty.

But if a woman grows narrow and peevish, imagining that she has no friends and that no one loves her, it will soon come to be actually the case, she will be shunned and disliked.

For why should we go out of our way to seek disagreeable companionship when the world is full of sunny, lovable souls whose one object is to spread happiness?

I would advise all girls of twenty-eight to give themselves a mental overhauling.

Let each say to herself, "I wonder if I am growing cranky? Am I getting into a rut and thinking that there is only one way to do things, and that way is my way?"

Just because a girl is thirty or over is no reason why she should give up going about and enjoying herself.

If she makes up her mind to be young she will seem young.

I would not have her at all or silly, nothing is more objectionable than a woman of thirty acting like a girl of eighteen, but neither would I have her act years older than there is any necessity she should.

Far more women are too old for their age than too young.

There is no age at which a woman may not be charming if she goes the right way about it.

This is demonstrated by the fact that no great writers have ever agreed as to what is woman's best age. They place it all the way from twenty to fifty.

If you have lost the bloom of twenty you must cultivate some charm to take its place.

The reason the term "old maid" has come to be one of derision is because women have made it so.

When a woman does not marry she frequently settles down into a dull, gray existence, with no interests save in herself, a moderate amount of charity work and her neighbors' business.

It is all very well to be interested in self to a certain degree—we all are—that—but her charitable work would be far better done were she to broaden her horizon a trifle, and her neighbors will like her quite as well if her interest is confined to them—selves, not to their business.

I hope the day will come when the unmarried woman will make herself

Does It Pay To Be Good? WHAT IS GOOD? WHAT IS BAD?

A woman can give up her world and live for love and not lose her womanhood—in fact, womanhood in itself might be strengthened—but the woman who goes the pace of immorality as it is reckoned in metropolitan cities, is beyond any purifying process. There is no punishment that can come to her, even escape from the death chair, that will make her a 'moral woman.'—THE WIDOW.

Two thousand dollars a week for notoriety would seem that it does not pay to be good, that a premium is offered or placed upon the crime of the young woman who recently stood trial for the death of her associate. But, for the life of me, I can't understand why Nan Patterson, should be held morally responsible for all the sordid immorality of others that was brought out and displayed from beginning to end of this tragedy in her life. The thing for which she stood trial, imprisonment, suffering—it seems to me—is the best part of the whole, the one redeeming feature, the passing out of the whole out of life of the man Young. It was shocking, that the thing took place in a cab from a bullet wound, during a morning farewell drive, and shocking that the accident occurred at a highly sensational minute of the game "he shan" and the woman were playing, but even with the shocks dealt to outsiders it was the only fixing, practical, sensible, decent, really respectable bit of the whole—the association, the game, the trial, the notoriety and the values set upon immorality by the public, the lawyers and theatrical managers. The worst crime of the whole is that for which the lawyers stand responsible—the crime of exhibiting Nan Patterson for two thousand dollars a week.

The lawyers saw from the first the value of notoriety. They had the opportunity to build up the value around a good-looking young woman. The young woman, in addition had the strength to stand pat and say nothing during the months the trial went on. It was up to the prosecution to prove guilt, and the more work there was to do the more notoriety, the more value there was to the lawyers. The fight was not made for innocence or virtue. It was made for money—the price the theatrical managers would offer that a public, a curious and morbid public, might look upon a woman who had been, or who had not been, purified as by fire. The press work was taken care of from the first, all sympathy was world and thought out in the most diplomatic way. The public jumped into the game and demanded freedom for the girl, and the girl herself spoke of her desire that a future could be opened for her where peace and purity and quiet could reign.

Freedom came. The theatrical manager made his offer. The agents of the girl accepted it. Two thousand dollars a week for notoriety while talent goes begging! But something happened. The public was not morbid or curious two thousand dollars worth.

The "star" said the company did not treat her rightly and that the audiences were cold. She needed encouragement. So regardless of the contract signed with her lawyers before her trial for murder began, she stepped down from the "legitimate" and will now go into the vaudeville.

"Does it pay to be good?" What is good? What is bad? Nan Patterson in knowing the man Young has been held up as the moral monstrosity who knew him for the money he gave her. Even so even if there was not a tithe of affection in the acquaintance, was her sin any greater than would be that of men in the high profession of law who could fight for the innocence and life of a client because they foresaw a miraculous value to theatrical managers? Why should Nan Patterson be called a "vampire" and the dead man the victim any more than such lawyers the vampires and the unfortunate woman the victim? If money for immorality makes this part of the world a death or two does not matter nearly so much as the fact that a respectable profession can so feed on the misfortunes of the other.

So far as the "purifying by fire" is concerned it is impossible to make a moral woman out of an immoral one. This is no reference to the Patterson girl. She may be one or the other. I don't know. A woman can give up her world and live for love and not lose her womanhood—in fact, womanhood in itself might be strengthened—but the woman who goes the pace of immorality as it is reckoned in metropolitan cities, is beyond any purifying process. There is no punishment that can come to her, even escape from the death chair, that will make her a moral woman. Every instinct in her is for immorality. Her vanity and her selfishness must be gratified. She resorts to intrigue and deceptions of all kinds with money the goal of her ambitions. She must have what she sees other women having. She soon learns—if a fair amount of gray matter in her head goes with her pretty face—that marriage does not bring her as much pleasure and luxury and freedom as the independent life with her chances for pampering to her prejudices and weaknesses of many men. A man to her has but one value, and that is the size of his bank account. If she be pretty, refined and clever the cosmopolitan world of New York becomes her Mecca. She can play her game in various circles with little chance of discovery through one circle breaking into the other unless by accident some notoriety overtakes her. She then becomes branded and must sink to a lower strata in her profession, but it would be utterly impossible for her to go up the scale of womanhood through having a conscience awakened—a conscience that she never had, or could recognize if it tried to burst into life. She would understand her bad luck, but not her sin against morals.—The Widow, in Town Topics.

What Women Are Doing.

When Mrs. Goddard of Colorado Springs, Col., was appointed deputy sheriff she took the office because it would assist her in her work for the preventing of cruelty to animals. Mrs. Goddard is a grand-daughter of General Lewis Cass and a millionaire in her own right.

Mrs. Harry Wallerstein of New York received her lawyer's degree five years ago and was graduated with honors at the New York Medical College and Hospital for Women the first of this month. Her medical studies were undertaken in order that she might be fitted to maintain a free clinic for poor women and children. Mrs. Wallerstein devotes all her time to charitable work.

The Princess of Wied, prominent in the court circles of Berlin, has a beautiful way of spending a generous amount of her great fortune. She buys up all the badly used horses that she knows of, and putting them in her own stable, gives them rest and the best of care, so that they often come out as good as new. Hundreds of abused and broken-down horses have been restored to health by her.

Lady de Grey, notable chiefly as the intimate friend of Queen Alexandra of England, is tall and exceedingly beautiful and takes the highest rank not only as a grande dame, but as one of the most beautiful women in England. She was an exquisitely lovely girl of 18, when, as Lady Gladys Herbert, she married the late Earl of Lonsdale, and she retains almost all of her youthful charm, in spite of the flight of time and the birth of Lady Juliet Duff's little daughter last year, which made her a grandmother. Lady de Grey is a reigning queen in the realm of music, and at Coombe, where she generally passes the summer, she often entertains distinguished stars of the operatic firmament, as well as guests of exalted social rank.

The Marquis of Londonderry, president of the board of education, lately appointed the Hon. Maude Lawrence, youngest daughter of the first Lord Lawrence (governor general of India and the chairman to the first school board of London) to a newly established post, that of chief woman inspector under the board of education. Miss Lawrence was for many years chairman of a committee of managers under the London school board and a member of the board from 1889 to 1904, when she was placed on the education committee by the London county council. Miss Lawrence will direct a staff of women inspectors of special qualifications and varied experience, who will assist the board in all matters relating to the education of young children, girls and young women in elementary schools, training colleges, technical classes and with matters of health. Miss N. Adler was elected to fill the vacancy on the education committee of the London county council made vacant by the resignation of Miss Lawrence.

such a beloved and important factor in the world's work that the term "old maid" will be consigned to oblivion.

Dear girls, I sincerely trust that all of you will be happily married.

This talk is only intended to comfort you in case you should not, and to help some of you to keep from becoming old before your time.

Do keep your hearts sweet and young, and your minds alert and interested.

And let me tell you that by so doing you will stand ten times a better chance of marrying than if you allow yourselves to grow rusty and uninteresting.

"The idea that friendship between women is impossible is nursed by the superficial judgment of men upon the subject," says a woman of the world.

"A pretty and otherwise, intelligent girl will announce, almost with pride, that she can't get on with other women somehow. She doesn't care for their society." Or she is "afraid of them—they say such spiteful things about me." Then does the listening male friend murmur sympathy, and go away with the "tradition, 'How these women hate one another,' strengthened and deepened. As a matter of fact, the pretty and otherwise intelligent girl has uttered these remarks partly out of youthful arrogance, a wish to drive home the impression that she is attractive enough to call forth the spite of the green-eyed monster, and partly because there lurks in every feminine heart the instinctive impulse to follow the course which is laid down for it by long established convention. It is quite likely that the girl in question has more than one sympathetic woman friend who is acquainted with all the secrets of her heart. To one of these will she in all probability presently betake herself and discuss the conceit and shortsightedness of men in general and of the man with whom she has just been conversing in particular."

Australia has found a new use for discarded trams. Sydney ladies have them painted green and white, hang them with baskets of flowers, train creepers over the roof and then utilize them as afternoon tearooms.

News from Boston is to the effect that a new cult has sprung up in that city, its leader being Miss Flora Macdonald, a lecturer on art and designer of stained-glass windows. The new cult, which may be termed the color cure for want of a better name, teaches that color will cure all mortal ills, if properly used. Are you a nervous wreck? Select new wall paper, win back health and put the doctors out of business. Has cupid passed you by? Select decorations of red and see how quickly he will respond. If husband's love has grown cold, surround him with restful greens, optimistic yellow, inspiring blues and keep out of the divorce court. Miss Macdonald traces the origin of many mental and physical ills to the wrong use of colors and finds the cure in the substitution of correct colors.

Cambridge, Mass., is noted for many things, but of late its principal attraction is a newspaper run exclusively by women. The paper has women editors, a woman business manager, women composers and "newspaper girls" selling it upon the street. It is called the Cambridge Press and is an eight-page weekly. At first Cambridge people looked upon it as a joke, but soon the sentiment turned. Women as news gatherers did not prove as dismal a failure as many predicted and with each issue the Press entertained and sparkled more and more.

The hours that even the busy woman gives her children must not be the "rag ends" of the day. One cannot hope to gain a place in their lives unless one gives them the best of oneself. The chief point is never to be "tired" when you are with your children. It is a difficult task, but you will live to regret it in their merciless criticism if you grudge the time you give. And so one should never let anything interfere with certain hours of companionship, ride or walks, or even talks. However busy one has to be, one can fit these in somehow if one makes up one's mind to do so.

MILITIA MEN WIN THEIR SHOOT

REPRESENTATIVES OF BATTERY "B" DEFEATED BY A SCORE OF SEVENTEEN POINTS.

LIVERMORE, June 21.—The local militia which has been so fortunate in past years in winning from other teams in competitive "shoots" began the season this year favorably by winning from Battery B of San Francisco, by a score of seventeen points. The team is composed of the ten best shots of the company and they expect to duplicate their efforts of last Sunday all through the summer with a number of other teams against which they are scheduled to shoot.

BRIEFLETS.

The graduates of the Livermore Grammar School in lieu of their usual commencement exercises will give a dance Saturday night at the Sweeney Opera House.

Quite a large number of Livermoreans attended the "Holy Ghost" festivities held at Pleasanton Saturday night and Sunday.

The ordinance relating to the closing of saloons at midnight has been put into effect and both the town marshal and night watchman have been instructed to see that the ordinance is carried out to the letter.

A fire alarm was sounded Saturday morning about 10 o'clock. When the company arrived on the scene it turned out to be nothing more than a false alarm, doing no damage except to burn a few sacks of rice belonging to a junk dealer.

DRAYMEN MAKE COMPLAINT

WANT THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY TO GIVE BETTER SERVICE.

The following communication was received by the Merchants' Exchange last evening from the Express Draymen's Association of Alameda County:

"At the last meeting of our association, I was requested to enlist your aid in our endeavors to secure a more adequate freight service on the Creek route of the Southern Pacific Company. We desire a service commensurate with the growing business of the present time.

"The accommodations furnished by the Southern Pacific Company are not capable of handling fifty per cent of the volume of business transacted between Oakland and San Francisco. The fact that Oakland is growing and the merchants' trade with San Francisco is steadily increasing has not appealed to the freight officials of the Southern Pacific Company.

"The Oakland merchants of today require an up-to-date service and we therefore hope that their interest in the matter will have some influence in securing the much-needed accommodation.

"The ferryboat in use at the present time is one of the oldest and smallest of passenger boats owned by the company (not condemned) and as a creek freight boat is wholly inadequate and in justice to those most directly concerned in this branch of Oakland's growth, we would most earnestly request your aid in operation and sympathy in our endeavor to secure only a just and ample freight service for Oakland Harbor.

"Yours respectfully,
"C. L. FRENCH, President.
"S. A. WILLARD, Secretary."

C. W. CHILDS, president of the People's Express Company, addressed the Exchange on the above matter, stating that the Garden City was formerly used for the freight route but was being used for passenger service. He thought that now Mr. Palmer could reciprocate by devoting some attention to the improvement of the freight facilities of his company in this city.

The speaker said that frequently the wagons of this company were held up and not permitted to go on the boat because the craft was overcrowded. This caused delay in the delivery of goods and recently his company was threatened with a suit because baggage had been delayed in this way.

CLEVELAND, O., June 21.—George F. Cleveland, former secretary and treasurer of the Federal Trust Company, who has been on trial for several days on the charge of having embezzled the sum of $1,800 from that bank, has been acquitted. The Federal Trust Company, some time ago was merged with another Cleveland bank.

HUSBAND IS DYING, WIFE IN JAIL

Shot in Back of Head, But Refuses to Accuse the Woman.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Edward Crane of East New York is dying at a Brooklyn hospital from a bullet wound in the back of his head. His young wife was taken in custody by the police. Crane is 27 years old and has lived for some time in the modest cottage where he was shot. He refused to make any statement when told that his end was near.

A policeman heard the shot and rushed up to the door just as a revolver dropped from the bedroom window above. It grazed his shoulder in falling. He picked it up, forced open the front door and going to the second floor saw Crane lying full length on the floor, partly clad. He was unconscious. Beside him, half kneeling his wife, who was moaning and wringing her hands, calling upon her husband to speak to her. Crane revived when a physician had been called, but refused to make any statement.

Mrs. Crane was taken to the station, where the police say she declared that her husband came home late, started a quarrel and threatened to kill her. In a scuffle over a revolver which he had, she said, he was shot. How the bullet happened to strike Crane in the back of the head the young woman refused to tell.

WILL INSPECT RAILROAD

GENERAL MANAGER CALVIN GETTING DOWN TO MERIT SYSTEM.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Superintendent of Maintenance of Way Wallace of the Southern Pacific, under directions of General Manager Calvin, is making arrangements for the annual inspection of the Western system of the road. A similar inspection is now under way on the Atlantic system. Few events in the yearly experience of the average railroad man is looked forward to with as much interest by those connected with the operating department as the annual inspection. It is a ceremony that means much to employees of the various divisions, who take good care of their employers' property, for the conditions of the road for which they are responsible are carefully judged by a committee appointed for the purpose, and each man is credited according to his merit as a caretaker and rewarded.

Medals are awarded to section masters for the best cared-for track, keepers of tanks are properly judged for the manner in which they take care of the property in their charge, division superintendents get their just share of recognition, and the whole thing is finally computed upon a basis of merit and stands as a permanent record of the men concerned. The fact that General Manager Calvin is known as one of the most scrutinizing officials in the Western railroad world causes it to be generally believed that the coming annual inspection will be a record breaker in the history of the Southern Pacific.

NEWS OF THE DAY FROM THE SUBURBS

SOCIETY MAID TELLS OF ONE "PROF." SAYS "NO" HER ENGAGEMENT. ANOTHER "YES."

Beautiful Nina Munro to Wed University Graduate Now With Berkeley Bank.

BERKELEY June 21.—One of the most interesting engagement announcements of the season was made yesterday afternoon when Miss Nina Munro surrounded by a score or more of her intimate girl friends made public the fact that she is to wed L. I. Reed, a young bank clerk of Berkeley.

At the affair yesterday, when the engagement was announced a pretty feature was arranged by her friends a surprise for Miss Munro. She was presented with a lovely parasol by her cousin Mrs. Florence Peake and upon opening the filmy bit of lace and silk the young bride-to-be was showered with handkerchiefs that fell in profusion from the folds of the parasol where feminine hands had hidden them.

Miss Munro who has a host of friends in the University town society is the beautiful daughter of Mrs. Lucy Munro. She has but recently returned with her grandmother from a trip through the East and South an extended stay having been made in New Orleans. Miss Munro is a graduate of the Berkeley High School with the class of 1904.

Mr. Reed is a son of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Reed of Santa Barbara, from which city he came to Berkeley. He entered the University of California and graduated with the class of 1902. He is a prominent member of the Ridge Road Club and since graduating from the University has been connected with the First National Bank.

The young couple have not yet announced the date of their wedding. Among those present at the affair yesterday were Mrs. L. C. Brakenridge, Mrs. N. H. Reed, Miss Eva Carlin, Mrs. M. C. James, Miss Annie C. Edmunds, Mrs. F. L. Naylor, Mrs. F. R. Peake, Mrs. F. R. Peake, Mrs. Lydia Savary, Miss Sarah Mathew, Mrs. Ada Lockette, Miss Grace Parish, Miss Julia Phillips, Miss Elizabeth Nott, Misses Mary and Eva McClure and Mrs. Graham B. Peake.

TO HOLD EXCURSION LADIES AT FETE

Methodist Sunday School to Have Outing. Benefit of Church.

SAN LEANDRO June 21.—J. A. Gallett has offered to take the Methodist Sunday school on a picnic in his big wagonette at whatever time the authorities select. Dr. A. J. Hanson and Mrs. F. P. Church are in charge of the excursion and have yet to decide where and when it will take place.

The outing will be the annual picnic of the Sunday school. Probably it will be held at San Lorenzo Park. Long tables are to be erected for the convenience of those attending and the women and girls will prepare a luncheon. Swings and hammocks are to be put up and possibly arrangements made for a literary program. There is to be a baseball game in the afternoon between two nines of boys in the Sunday school.

WILL HOLD ELECTION

San Leandro Lodge of the Ancient Order of Workmen is preparing for the annual election of officers which is to take place at the next meeting June 23. Many of those now in office will be candidates for re-election and some new ones are to continue in their positions for another six months by virtue of provisions in the constitution.

Those governing the lodge at present are as follows: J. E. Quinn, master; workman, S. Ur, foreman; C. E. Kistler, overseer; Edgar L. McFarland, recorder; Henry Abernethy, financier; H. F. Eber, receiver; H. J. Ravels, inside watchman; George Demont, outside watchman.

PERSONALS.

Several members of the M. E. Church here attended the camp meetings at Beulah Park today. They brought their luncheons and stayed all day. They are Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Hanson, Mrs. F. P. Church, Mrs. S. M. M. Woodman and Miss M. Thurston.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Frates of Sacramento are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Garcia of this place. The visitors expect to be here several days.

William Angus the superintendent of the Suburban Electric Light Company was in Oakland yesterday afternoon on business.

FROM OTHER LANDS.

At Grahamstown, South Africa, a pair of ostriches were sold recently for $5,000, which is a record price. The plucking from the chicks of this pair realized from $50 to $62.50 per bird.

OLD PEOPLE Their Pains and Ailments

Any taint of the blood quickly shows itself with old people, and troubles, which a younger, more vigorous constitution holds in check, take possession of those of advanced years. A mole, wart or pimple often begins to inflame and fester, terminating in a sore that refuses to heal. Wandering pains of a rheumatic character are almost constant, the joints get stiff and the muscular sore, while sleeplessness and nervousness make life a burden. The natural activity of the body is not so great in old age and all the organs get dull and sluggish, failing to carry out the waste matters and poisons accumulating in the system and they are taken up and absorbed by the blood, rendering it weak and unable to properly nourish the system. There is no reason why old age should not be as healthy as youth if the blood is kept pure and strong. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and is the safest and best blood purifier and tonic for old people, because it is gentle, but at the same time thorough in its action, purifying the blood of all poisons and foreign matter, strengthening it and toning up the entire system by its fine tonic effect. Almost from the first dose the appetite increases, the general health begins to improve and the pains and ailments pass away.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

PROFESSOR E. J. WICKSON.

Question is Whether California Women Are Good Cooks, or Not—Argument Results.

BERKELEY June 21.—Are the women of California poor cooks or do their ordinary abilities deserve praise?

Professor D. T. Fowler of the Agricultural College says they're not the best in the world and favors adding several women lecturers to the college staff to instruct California ladies in the arts of domestic science.

On the other hand Professor E. J. Wickson head of the college, and dean as well, declares with emphasis that California ladies stand high in the scale as chefs and housewives. "Who is right?"

Professor Fowler has just returned from a long tour of the State, delivering lectures at institutes for farmers which is his particular province. He encountered various brands of California cookery, and pronounced it well not the best.

On the other hand Professor Wickson equally epicurean in his tastes, equally decided to pronounce a verdict in the case has just returned from a tour of California, extending from the south to the north, accompanying the Irrigation Committee of Congress on its tour of the State and Professor Wickson says:

"Are there good cooks in California? Plenty. The best? Why shouldn't there be? They have the best there is to cook with—fruits and vegetables in all seasons and all the time, cream and condiments, coupled with such skill as native daughters and the wise women from the East combined can muster.

"California ladies cook? Bless you—I think they are wonderful and the seal with which they take up new ideas as expounded in our domestic courses at the farmers institutes proves that."

And there you are—with two "Profs." at opposite ends of the argument.

Professor Wickson announces that special attention will be given to domestic science lectures for women in particular at the coming sessions of the summer school. Ellen M. Bartlett and Lillian S. Hyde will give lectures in domestic science and cookery in Hearst Hall each day during the sessions of the school. Chafing dish cookery and the care of the home will also be discussed by these lecturers.

TO BOND DISTRICT BOY IS SCALPED

To Spend $31,000 For Sewer System. Wound on Head.

ELMHEURST June 21.—It was decided by the residents of the Melrose sanitary district to bond the district for $31,000 for the purpose of laying a sewer.

The election was held Monday at the Melrose schoolhouse.

It was necessary that two thirds of the votes cast should be in favor of the proposition to make it carry. More than enough were in favor as the votes were fifty-one for and twenty-one against the bond issue.

The sum raised by bonding the district will be sufficient to lay a large main sewer through Melrose and with enough lateral pipes to drain all the district now inhabited. To pay the interest and provide for a sinking fund the property owners must pay a tax of 88 cents on the $100 annually.

Most of the citizens of the district are progressive and eager to get all the modern improvements. At the election a few months ago to determine whether or not to form a sanitary district the vote in favor was overwhelming. William Thornally, S. McDonald and J. Taylor were chosen members of the Sanitary Board.

When it was decided to hold the election for the bond issue there were experts from Oakland and Fruitvale present and they gave estimates of the cost of the different styles of sewers. In the opinion of the board the amount chosen is enough to provide for the needs of the district for years to come and the system is susceptible to extension.

NO JURISDICTION.

TOPEKA Kan., June 21.—The Board of Railroad Commissioners has decided that it has no jurisdiction over the Pullman Car Company so far as rates are concerned. It decided that the Pullman company is not a common carrier, and that the Board has no power to regulate the various overcharges such as, it is alleged, are being made in Kansas.

BOY IN TROUBLE

Has a Mania for Stealing Horses.

HAYWARDS June 21.—Arthur Bonnell, the boy who stole the Shetland pony from C. M. Buck of this place, is in trouble again for a similar offense. In the John Valley he appropriated a horse and escaped to the woods. After an exciting chase he was captured by Constable Dutton near Gonzales.

The wayward youth is now safe in the Salinas jail awaiting trial for two larcenies.

Three weeks ago he rode away on a valuable pony belonging to Mr. Buck. The officers of the law did not succeed in finding the culprit, and Mr. and Mrs. Buck went after the lad in a buggy. On Ben Lomond in the Santa Cruz mountains they caught up with him and regained the pony without catching the boy, who escaped by swimming.

U. R. K. M. TO PARADE.

Word has been received that the companies of the Uniformed Rank of the Maccabees in all the bay cities will be present at the celebration of the Fourth of July here and take part in the great parade. It is hoped that arrangement can be made to have all the Knights on horseback.

W. H. Donohue of Pleasanton has accepted an invitation to read the Declaration of Independence on the evening of the Fourth. Luncheon of Oakland will deliver the oration of the day. The literary exercises will take place at the ball grounds immediately before the fireworks display.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB.

Members of the Ladies' Improvement Club held a special meeting Monday afternoon at the Town Hall. The previous regular meeting, which should have taken place on Tuesday, was postponed because of the absence of several of the members.

Improvements on the plaza were discussed and it was decided to have the plaza altered to take care of the place during the summer months. It was reported that a number of new benches had been donated by the different fraternal orders and several business men of Hayward.

A partial victory has been won over the morning glory weed, which has threatened to overrun the plaza. By chemical means the spread of the plant was stopped and it appears that its final extermination is only a matter of time.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED.

George Dahl was tried on the charge of malicious mischief yesterday before Justice Browne. He was charged by Charles Allen a storekeeper whose slot machines had been smashed by Dahl on Sunday when under the influence of liquor.

The accused was found guilty, and the judge suspended sentence until July 1st. The damage to the machines had been made good by the father of the young man.

NEWS ITEMS.

There will be an entertainment given in the Opera House on June 30th by the Empire Minstrel Company. A large number of the citizens are preparing to attend the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thorup returned from their four day tour last Sunday evening. They will live in a pretty cottage on Castro street.

FOUND DEAD IN TRAIN WRECK

SEATTLE, Wash., June 21.—Earl W. Lovejoy, a Northern Pacific switchman, and Miss Loretta Stark, his stepdaughter, were killed in a wreck on the Northern Pacific Railroad to-night three miles south of this city. C. S. Hagerman, night foreman of the Georgetown yard, was bruised about the head and chest.

Lovejoy and Miss Stark, who had been allowed to ride in the engine, were seated on the fireman's seat, and when the engine tipped over were unable to get out and were pinioned beneath the boiler.

A wrecking crew was hurried to the scene of the accident and it took the men an hour and a half to extricate the bodies of Lovejoy and Miss Stark. When found they were locked in each other's embrace.

PRINCIPAL MILLER TO LEAVE ALAMEDA.

Has a Mania for Mastick School Principal Accepts Position in the Berkeley Department.

ALAMEDA June 21.—At the regular session of the Board of Education last night Clinton E. Miller, who has been for some time principal of the Mastick school, presented his resignation, which was accepted with regret. He resigns to accept the position of principal of the Whittier school at Berkeley, at a salary considerably larger than that he has received here. He takes this opportunity, said President Frank Otis, "to express sincere regret at Mr. Miller's leaving our department, and I have been informed that he has accepted the principalship at a larger salary than we have been able to offer."

Principal Miller, during the two years he has served here as principal, has received $135 per month. The salary attached to the principalship of the Whittier school is $165, or over $1800 a year.

Mr. Miller's home is in Tulare. He was graduated from the University of California in 1900, when he was the president of his class. At the university he was prominent in the student affairs, and was well known in track events as an athlete. He taught school before coming to Alameda to accept a principalship.

The School Board last night granted a six months leave of absence to Miss Viola Second class, distinguished, who has been in poor health, and who is to go to the Eastern States.

Miss Ella Redman was promoted from assistant teacher to the position of a regular teacher. Miss Blanchard received a like advancement. It was decided to experiment with oiling the floors of several rooms and halls at the Porter school.

Janitors for the several schools were elected to serve for the ensuing year as follows: Mastick, James Burton, Haight, F. E. Wolff; Everett, M. Fernbach, Wilson; William Fingree; Longfellow, Louis Goodall. Peter Sweeney was made gardener for the Haight school and Simon Winkler for the Wilson school. At the other schools the janitors also act as gardeners.

CERTIFICATES AWARDED.

ALAMEDA June 21.—The Academy of Notre Dame has awarded certificates of promotion in the various classes, also in the various grades of the musical department with medals and premiums, as follows:

OIL FOR STREETS.

ALAMEDA June 21.—A consignment of crude oil was received today by the Street Department for use on the city streets. Last Saturday night Frodden will complete the oiling of Central avenue on the north side between Park and Everett streets, and then give attention to spreading the pavement on Jackson, Mound, Van Buren and Washington streets, near the Wilson school. This work will be completed during the school vacation.

AT MILL VALLEY.

ALAMEDA June 21.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Warren and family, of Lafayette street, last Saturday night entertained a party of young people from this city at their summer home in Mill Valley. The occasion was a double birthday anniversary, celebrated jointly by Miss Gertrude Warren and Miss Miriam Jackson, and pleasant diversions were the order of the evening until a late hour, when refreshments were served. Sunday was spent by the party in a very pleasant outing in the hills.

Those in the merry party were Misses Gertrude Moeller, Cora Dodge, Gertrude Warren, Gertrude Warren of Alameda, and Miss Ethel Warren of San Francisco, and Messrs Leslie Kilham, Frank Jackson, Elmo Culbert, Raymond Walter, of Alameda and Robert Brown of Sausalito.

OLD PEOPLE Their Pains and Ailments

Any taint of the blood quickly shows itself with old people, and troubles, which a younger, more vigorous constitution holds in check, take possession of those of advanced years. A mole, wart or pimple often begins to inflame and fester, terminating in a sore that refuses to heal. Wandering pains of a rheumatic character are almost constant, the joints get stiff and the muscular sore, while sleeplessness and nervousness make life a burden. The natural activity of the body is not so great in old age and all the organs get dull and sluggish, failing to carry out the waste matters and poisons accumulating in the system and they are taken up and absorbed by the blood, rendering it weak and unable to properly nourish the system. There is no reason why old age should not be as healthy as youth if the blood is kept pure and strong. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and is the safest and best blood purifier and tonic for old people, because it is gentle, but at the same time thorough in its action, purifying the blood of all poisons and foreign matter, strengthening it and toning up the entire system by its fine tonic effect. Almost from the first dose the appetite increases, the general health begins to improve and the pains and ailments pass away.
